

universität wien

www.unodc.org/e-lectures/

Webinar for academics, practitioners and students on

“Urban Youth Crime and Violence: Can it be Prevented?”

The last two decades have seen dramatic change on the global urban security scene. Expressions of social unrest through youth crime and violence have become a common place in developing and developed world.

International crime prevention academics and experts from the UNODC speak about global and local problems in countering urban youth crime and violence and open themselves to your questions email.

Email: e-lecture@unodc.org

22 November 2011, Tuesday (15.30-17.30 CET; GMT+1)

Vienna International Centre, UNIS, Multimedia Room G 0545

Moderator: Dr. Sławomir REDO, Visiting Lecturer, University of Vienna (Austria); Professor, Łazarski University (Warsaw, Poland)

Opening statements

Welcome address: Ms. Sonja WINTERSBERGER, United Nations Information Service
Dr. Michael PLATZER, Academic Council on the United Nations System

FIRST HOUR (3 x 15')

1. Prof. Mangai NATARAJAN, Urban Violent Youth, Organized Crime and International Development: Why Youth Rebels?
Professor, Department of Criminal Justice, John Jay College of Criminal Justice, City University of New York (New York, USA) – pre-recorded presentation
2. Dr. Margaret SHAW, Making Urban Crime Prevention Work for the Dialogue of Civilizations : Lessons Learned to Think Ahead of the Curve

Consultant, f. with International Centre for the Prevention of Crime (Montréal, Canada) – statement via Skype communicator

3. Questions and Answers

BREAK

SECOND HOUR (3 x 15')

1. Mr. Enrico BISOGNO, United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, Patterns of Homicide at the Global Level: Which Indicators for Crime Prevention?
2. Ms. Simonetta GRASSI, United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, Firearms, Transnational Organized Crime Convention and Global Counteraction
3. Questions and Answers