A snapshot of the outcomes of the five regional preparatory meetings for the Fourteenth United Nations Congress on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice

I. BACKGROUND

• In its resolutions 72/192 and 73/184, the General Assembly urged participants in the regional preparatory meetings to examine the substantive items on the agenda and the topics of the workshops of the Fourteenth Congress and to make action-oriented recommendations to serve as a basis for the draft recommendations and conclusions for consideration by the Congress.

• The recommendations made at the five regional preparatory meetings (RPMs), in accordance with the above mandates, are reflected in the following reports of the meetings, which are available on the website of the 14th UN Crime Congress, as follows:

  ➢ A/CONF.234/RPM.3/1 (Latin America and the Caribbean; Santiago, Chile, 5-7 February 2019) https://www.unodc.org/congress/en/regionals/latin-america.html,

1 The present paper and its Annexes were prepared by the Secretariat (UNODC) in an effort to take stock of the outcomes of the five regional preparatory meetings for the Fourteenth United Nation Congress on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice. They were also disseminated as reference material in support of the discussions during the Governmental Expert Group Meeting on Preparations for the Fourteenth United Nations Congress on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice, held in Kyoto, Japan, from 9 to 11 September 2019.

2 As explicitly mentioned in each of the reports, “recommendations” identified by participants during the regional preparatory meetings and reflected in these reports under the headings “Outcome of deliberations” (in the parts relating to the main theme of the Congress and in each cluster of substantive agenda item and workshop topic) have not been subject to negotiation by the participants. The reports of the regional preparatory meetings also contain a summary of the “deliberations” relating to the main theme of the Congress and to each cluster of substantive agenda item and workshop topic, complementary to the headings “Outcome of deliberations”, reflected in the reports under the headings “Summary of deliberations”.

II. METHODOLOGY

- The “index” under section III provides a snapshot of the outcomes of the five RPMs. For purposes of brevity, the outcomes are presented here as brief references to the main topics/issues identified in the “Outcome of deliberations” of the five RPMs, as contained under “Main theme of the Congress”; the four thematic clusters of substantive agenda items + corresponding workshop topics; and “Other issues” in their respective reports (headings “Outcome of deliberations”). The full wording of these “Outcome of deliberations” is reflected in Annexes A and B, supplementing the current document.

- These two Annexes contain the same information (“Outcome of deliberations” in the reports of the five RPMs) but presented in a different format:
  1. Annex A presents the “mapping exercise” in a narrative format;
  2. Annex B presents the same “mapping exercise” as a matrix.

- Both annexes include references to the paragraphs of the reports of the respective RPMs. Throughout the Annexes, key words or phrases/concepts have been highlighted/underlined, as appropriate, in order to facilitate the reading and to help identifying main topics/issues. “Outcome of deliberations” relating to more than one “main topic”/“issue” were reproduced (in both Annexes A and B), as appropriate, under each of these main topics/issues, with the relevant words or phrases/concepts highlighted/underlined.
