UNODC collects, analyses and reports data on drug abuse and its health consequences as well as on cultivation, production, and trafficking of illicit drugs. This information helps foster a better understanding of the current trends and situation with regard to drug control globally. It also facilitates Member States to develop evidence informed policies and actions to address the drug situation.

www.unodc.org