

LABYRINTH

Fitting-In

Some of your friends try to change their appearance and how they behave to fit in more and have certain people look up to them.

You decided that it is better to be yourself, instead of someone else. Having a positive self-image can ward off those seeking to lure you with false promises.

Roll the die and take another turn. You are being rewarded for a resilient action

