

Marilyne Pereira Goncalves is a Senior Financial Sector Specialist with the World Bank West Africa Finance, Competitiveness and Innovation (FCI), where she leads technical assistance programs on anti-money laundering and combating the financing of terrorism technical assistance in Africa. She co-leads the implementation of the WB work program on anti-money laundering and environmental crimes. Marilyne holds a masters in international and comparative law from the George Washington University.