

Ayman Tharwat Amin, Minister Plenipotentiary

Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Egypt

Mr. Ayman Tharwat Amin is a diplomat who has been working for Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Egypt over the last 25 years. His career as a diplomat, coupled with his university studies in economics and foreign trade, has enriched his capacity in management, multilateral negotiations, reporting, assessments and analysis. During the positions he hold in different Egyptian embassies overseas and at the Headquarters in Cairo, he was involved in a wide range of issues (bilateral, regional and international) in the area of environment. Mr. Amin enjoys a strong experience in environment related matters and sustainable development over the last 15 years. Mr. Amin currently holds the position of Deputy Director General of the Department of Environment and Sustainable Development where he is in charge of different environmental issues such as climate change, biodiversity and SDGs, in particular Goals 6, 13 and 14.