

Anna Giudice (she/her) is the Team Leader of the Access to Justice Team, Division for Treaty Affairs, UNODC Headquarters in Vienna. As a career UN staff she has worked with UNODC since 2000, in various functions relating to the implementation of the international drug and crime conventions and UN standards and norms in crime prevention and criminal justice. Her background is in Public International Law and International Human Rights Law. She leads UNODC's work in the area of access to justice including access to legal aid, police reform and victim support. Her particular focus is on equal access to justice for all by addressing structural discrimination.