

Erica Bosio is a Senior Public Sector Specialist with the Governance Global Practice of the World Bank, where she leads the Global Initiative on Justice and the Rule of Law. Her research focuses primarily on justice reform, public procurement, reform design, and good governance. She joined the World Bank in 2012 and held various roles in the Development Economics Vice-Presidency, including leading the research on contract enforcement and public procurement in the Doing Business Project. Prior to joining the World Bank Group, Erica worked in the arbitration and litigation department of Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton in Milan. She holds a Master of Laws (LL.M.) from Georgetown University and a degree in law from the University of Turin (Italy).