

Fitz-Roy Drayton was called to the Bar of England and Wales in 1983. He was a prosecutor with New Scotland Yard and the Crown Prosecution Service for 14 Years. For seven of those years he specialised in asset forfeiture.

Since 1999, Fitz-Roy has worked for international organisations delivering technical assistance and training in the Caribbean, the Pacific, Serbia, Iraq and Southern Africa.

Fitz-Roy has been in Thailand since October 2020 as a money laundering adviser.

Fitz-Roy will be discussing the introduction of Professional Development Systems for Financial Investigators in South East Asia and The Pacific.