

Rajagopal is the director of WHO Collaborating Centre at Trivandrum & chairman of Pallium India. His advocacy for balance in opioid access led to India's National Program for Palliative Care in 2012, amendment of the law governing opioids in 2014 and palliative care policy of Government of Kerala.

Pallium India, a national registered trust, demonstrates palliative care with community participation at its WHO Collaborating Centre, provides education and facilitates palliative care access, working with government and organisations for legislation, policies & programs & catalysing services.