

Chapter I

Matters calling for action by the Economic and Social Council or brought to its attention

A. Draft decisions for adoption by the Economic and Social Council

1. The Commission recommends to the Economic and Social Council the adoption of the following draft decisions:

Draft decision I

Report of the Commission on Narcotic Drugs on its fifty-fifth session and provisional agenda for its fifty-sixth session

The Economic and Social Council:

- (a) Takes note of the report of the Commission on Narcotic Drugs on its fifty-fifth session;
- (b) Approves the provisional agenda for the fifty-sixth session set out below.

Provisional agenda for the fifty-sixth session of the Commission on Narcotic Drugs

1. Election of officers.
2. Adoption of the agenda and other organizational matters.

Operational segment

3. Policy directives to the drug programme of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime and strengthening the drug programme and the role of the Commission on Narcotic Drugs as its governing body, including administrative, budgetary and strategic management questions:
  - (a) Work of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime and policy directives;
  - (b) Role of the Commission as the governing body of the drug programme of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime:
    - (i) Strengthening the drug programme of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime;
    - (ii) Administrative, budgetary and strategic management questions.

Normative segment

4. Implementation of the international drug control treaties:
  - (a) Changes in the scope of control of substances;

- (b) International Narcotics Control Board;
  - (c) International cooperation to ensure the availability of narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances for medical and scientific purposes while preventing their diversion;
  - (d) Other matters arising from the international drug control treaties.
5. Round-table discussions on progress made in the implementation by Member States of the Political Declaration and Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem:
  - (a) Demand reduction and related measures;
  - (b) Supply reduction and related measures;
  - (c) Countering money-laundering and promoting judicial cooperation to enhance international cooperation.
6. Implementation of the Political Declaration and Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem:
  - (a) Demand reduction and related measures;
  - (b) Supply reduction and related measures;
  - (c) Countering money-laundering and promoting judicial cooperation to enhance international cooperation.
7. World situation with regard to drug trafficking and recommendations of the subsidiary bodies of the Commission.

* * *
8. Preparations for the high-level review of the implementation by Member States of the Political Declaration and Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem.
9. Provisional agenda for the fifty-seventh session of the Commission.
10. Other business.
11. Adoption of the report of the Commission on its fifty-sixth session.

Draft decision II

Report of the International Narcotics Control Board

The Economic and Social Council takes note of the report of the International Narcotics Control Board for 2011.<sup>1</sup>

---

<sup>1</sup> Report of the International Narcotics Control Board for 2011 (United Nations publication, Sales No. E.12.XI.5).

B. Matters brought to the attention of the Economic and Social Council

2. The following resolutions adopted by the Commission are brought to the attention of the Economic and Social Council:

Resolution 55/1

Promoting international cooperation in responding to the challenges posed by new psychoactive substances

The Commission on Narcotic Drugs,

Concerned that new psychoactive substances are increasingly being marketed as legal alternatives to internationally controlled drugs and that these substances may pose risks to public health and safety,

Acknowledging the dynamic and fast-paced nature of this market and the increasing role that the Internet plays in the trade of new psychoactive substances,

Deeply concerned about reports of the increased and emerging use of and trade in new psychoactive substances that may have effects similar to those of internationally controlled drugs,<sup>2</sup>

Concerned about the potential opportunities for transnational organized criminal groups to exploit the market for these substances,

Noting that a number of new psychoactive substances that have already been identified as posing serious risks to public health are subject to domestic control within certain Member States,

Noting also that the identification and control of emerging new psychoactive substances can pose challenges to effective health and law enforcement regulation,

Recalling its resolution 48/1 of 11 March 2005, on promoting the sharing of information on emerging trends in the abuse of and trafficking in substances not controlled under the international drug control conventions,

Recalling also its resolution 53/11 of 12 March 2010, on promoting the sharing of information on the potential abuse of and trafficking in synthetic cannabinoid receptor agonists,

Recalling further the functions mandated to the World Health Organization, under the Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs of 1961 as amended by the 1972 Protocol<sup>3</sup> and the Convention on Psychotropic Substances of 1971,<sup>4</sup> to provide medical and scientific recommendations to the Commission with regard to assessing the potential liability for abuse and ill effects of narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances,

---

<sup>2</sup> See the World Drug Report 2011 (United Nations Publication, Sales No. E.11.XI.10).

<sup>3</sup> United Nations, Treaty Series, vol. 976, No. 14152.

<sup>4</sup> Ibid., vol. 1019, No. 14956.

Welcoming the 2011 report of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime entitled “Synthetic cannabinoids in herbal products”, which provides a comprehensive review and valuable recommendations in response to synthetic cannabinoids,

Acknowledging the success of the global Synthetics Monitoring: Analysis, Reporting and Trends programme of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime in improving understanding of the synthetic drug problem through monitoring the illicit manufacture and use of and trafficking in synthetic drugs, including emerging synthetic substances, and noting the progress in implementation of that approach,

Acknowledging also the work of States members of the European Union, together with the European Monitoring Centre for Drugs and Drug Addiction, in developing effective processes for addressing new psychoactive substances, including an early warning system and risk assessment methodologies,

1. Encourages Member States to monitor emerging trends in the composition, production and distribution of new psychoactive substances, as well as patterns of use of those substances within their own national borders;

2. Urges Member States to share that information, through appropriate bilateral and multilateral channels, in particular with regard to patterns of use, risks to public health, forensic data and regulation of new psychoactive substances, with other Member States and the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime;

3. Encourages Member States, based on the available information on patterns of use and risks to the public, including risks to young people, to adopt appropriate measures aimed at reducing supply and demand in accordance with their national legislation;

4. Also encourages Member States to take measures to tackle the problem of new psychoactive substances, in accordance with their national legislation, by improving research, analysis and forensic and toxicological capability and advancing the monitoring of such substances, including sales through the Internet, through, but not limited to, the provision of bilateral technical assistance to Member States, and to share that information, where appropriate, with Member States;

5. Encourages the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime and other relevant international organizations, upon request, to provide Member States with technical assistance, including by supporting forensic and toxicological capability, to respond to the challenges posed by new psychoactive substances;

6. Encourages Member States to consider a wide variety of responses, such as temporary and emergency drug control measures in response to an imminent threat to public health, the use of consumer protection, medicines legislation and hazardous substances legislation, and, where appropriate, to consider criminal justice measures aimed at preventing the illicit manufacture of and trafficking in new psychoactive substances;

7. Urges Member States, based on the principle of common and shared responsibility, to further cooperate, in accordance with national law, in judicial and law enforcement activities to tackle the trade in and distribution and manufacture of those new psychoactive substances that have already been identified as posing risks to public health and that are subject to control within certain Member States;

8. Calls on Member States to cooperate, where appropriate, in addressing the possible public health risks of new psychoactive substances, and to share information and expertise on effective responses with the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime and the World Health Organization;

9. Encourages the World Health Organization, pursuant to article 3 of the Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs of 1961<sup>5</sup> and article 2 of the Convention on Psychotropic Substances of 1971,<sup>6</sup> to fulfil its mandate to review substances for possible scheduling recommendations to the Commission, so that the Commission can fulfil its mandate under those same articles;

10. Encourages the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to enhance the collection of information on new psychoactive substances, including through existing mechanisms such as the global Synthetics Monitoring: Analysis, Reporting and Trends programme, within its current financial and technical capacity, and considering the need for new mechanisms;

11. Requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, subject to the availability of extrabudgetary resources, to exchange information on new psychoactive substances, where appropriate, with relevant international organizations and global and regional cooperation frameworks, including the International Narcotics Control Board, the World Health Organization, the International Criminal Police Organization (INTERPOL) and the World Customs Organization;

12. Encourages Member States, the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, the World Health Organization and other relevant organizations, including the European Monitoring Centre for Drugs and Drug Addiction, to increasingly share information on new psychoactive substances;

13. Requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to provide an update to its 2011 report entitled “Synthetic cannabinoids in herbal products”, addressing a wider range of new psychoactive substances, in addition to synthetic cannabinoids, and to take into consideration the creation of a compilation of new psychoactive substances encountered by Member States, to serve as an early warning advisory;

14. Requests the Executive Director of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to report to the Commission, at its fifty-sixth session, on progress made with respect to the activities described in the present resolution;

15. Invites Member States and other donors to provide extrabudgetary resources for these purposes in accordance with the rules and procedures of the United Nations.

---

<sup>5</sup> Ibid., vol. 520, No. 7515.

<sup>6</sup> Ibid., vol. 1019, No. 14956.

Resolution 55/2

Promoting programmes aimed at the treatment, rehabilitation and reintegration of drug-dependent persons released from prison settings

The Commission on Narcotic Drugs,

Recalling the Political Declaration adopted by the General Assembly at its twentieth special session<sup>7</sup> and the Political Declaration and Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem,<sup>8</sup>

Recalling also the Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs of 1953 as amended by the 1972 Protocol<sup>9</sup> and, in particular, the need to assist drug abusers, to the extent possible, in their rehabilitation and social reintegration,

Recalling further the Salvador Declaration on Comprehensive Strategies for Global Challenges: Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice Systems and Their Development in a Changing World,<sup>10</sup> adopted by the Twelfth United Nations Congress on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice, in which Member States expressed their conviction of the importance of preventing youth crime and supporting the rehabilitation of young offenders and their reintegration into society, including efforts to prevent their revictimization, as well as of, in general, addressing the treatment of prisoners,

Considering that in prison settings in many countries of the world there are a significant number of drug-dependent persons and that the need for treatment, care, rehabilitation, social reintegration and related support services aimed at promoting health and social well-being among individuals, families and communities is common all over the world,

Concerned that drug-dependent persons released from prison settings are at high risk of relapse or reoffending unless provided with appropriate continued treatment, care, rehabilitation, social reintegration and related support services,

Considering that such a situation may lead to high levels of drug-related crime,

Stressing the importance of a multisectoral and fully coordinated approach in which multiple government agencies and non-governmental organizations within communities participate in order to support the development of a full continuum of policies and programmes that promote prevention, early detection and intervention, treatment, care, rehabilitation, social reintegration and related support services,

Bearing in mind that the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, acting within its mandate, can play an important role in addressing the strategies focusing

---

<sup>7</sup> General Assembly resolution S-20/2, annex.

<sup>8</sup> See Official Records of the Economic and Social Council, 2009, Supplement No. 8 (E/2009/28), chap. I, sect. C.

<sup>9</sup> United Nations, Treaty Series, vol. 976, No. 14152.

<sup>10</sup> General Assembly resolution 65/230, annex.

on the treatment, care, rehabilitation and social reintegration of persons released from prison settings,

1. Invites Member States to develop, implement and enhance measures, as appropriate, facilitating continued treatment, care, rehabilitation, social reintegration and related support services for drug-dependent persons being released from prison settings;

2. Also invites Member States to consider, as appropriate, developing or strengthening regulatory frameworks for the implementation of the measures mentioned above;

3. Calls upon Member States to consider, where appropriate and in accordance with national legislation, developing and implementing pre-release and post-release programmes aimed at preventing relapse and reoffending;

4. Encourages Member States to integrate those measures addressing the specific needs of drug-dependent persons released from prison settings into comprehensive national strategies on drug demand reduction;

5. Recommends that Member States ensure that service providers have access to the training and acquire the skills necessary to work with drug-dependent persons in pre-release and post-release programmes, in order to assist their treatment, care, rehabilitation, social reintegration and related support services;

6. Urges the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, in cooperation with the World Health Organization, to collect and disseminate information on relevant experiences of evidence-based treatment, rehabilitation and reintegration programmes and measures, subject to the availability of extrabudgetary resources;

7. Requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to include rehabilitation- and reintegration-oriented modules for drug-dependent persons being released from prison settings in its relevant technical assistance and training programmes that are aimed at promoting health and social well-being among individuals, families and communities;

8. Invites Member States and other donors to provide extrabudgetary resources for those purposes in accordance with the rules and procedures of the United Nations;

9. Requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to report to the Commission, at its fifty-seventh session, on the implementation of the present resolution.

Resolution 55/3

One hundredth anniversary of the International Opium Convention

The Commission on Narcotic Drugs,

Highlighting the International Opium Commission, the first multilateral initiative in the field of drug control, which was convened in Shanghai, China, from 1 to 26 February 1909, and that representatives of thirteen States, namely,

Austria-Hungary, China, France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, Persia,<sup>11</sup> Portugal, Russia, Siam<sup>12</sup> and the United States of America, participated in the deliberations,

Noting that as follow-up to the International Opium Commission, the first-ever multilateral drug control convention, the International Opium Convention signed at The Hague on 23 January 1912,<sup>13</sup> formed the basis for the development of the international drug control system,

Underscoring that the international community, being concerned with the health and welfare of mankind, further recognized the importance of expanding controls to promote adequate availability of internationally controlled licit drugs for medical and scientific purposes while recognizing its duty to combat and prevent their diversion and abuse, including in the following conventions:

(a) The Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs of 1953 as amended by the 1972 Protocol,<sup>14</sup> in which it is recognized that the medical use of narcotic drugs continues to be indispensable for the relief of pain and suffering and that adequate provision must be made to ensure the availability of narcotic drugs for such purposes, while at the same time limiting such use exclusively to scientific and medicinal purposes;

(b) The Convention on Psychotropic Substances of 1971,<sup>15</sup> in which it is recognized that the use of psychotropic substances for medical and scientific purposes is indispensable and that their availability for such purposes should not be unduly restricted,

Recalling the United Nations Convention against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances of 1988,<sup>16</sup> which recognizes the links between illicit traffic in narcotic drugs and psychoactive substances and other related organized criminal activities which undermine the legitimate economies and threaten the stability, security and the sovereignty of States,

Reaffirming the important role entrusted to the International Narcotics Control Board to ensure, in cooperation with Governments, the availability of narcotic drugs for medical and scientific purposes and prevent illicit trafficking in and use of drugs,

Recognizing the great progress made by the international community in international drug control efforts,

Aware of the challenges that remain in the field of global drug control,

Stressing the importance of commitment, common and shared responsibility and international cooperation in efforts to fight the world drug problem,

---

<sup>11</sup> Now referred to in the United Nations as the Islamic Republic of Iran.

<sup>12</sup> Now referred to in the United Nations as Thailand.

<sup>13</sup> League of Nations, Treaty Series, vol. VIII, No. 222.

<sup>14</sup> United Nations, Treaty Series, vol. 976, No. 14152.

<sup>15</sup> Ibid., vol. 1019, No. 14956.

<sup>16</sup> Ibid., vol. 1582, No. 27627.

Expressing the determination to strengthen action and cooperation at the national, regional and international levels towards the goals of those conventions, which remain the cornerstone of the international drug control system,

1. Invites all Member States to commemorate the centennial of the International Opium Convention signed at The Hague on 23 January 1912,<sup>17</sup> including by calling attention to the common and shared responsibility of all States to address the world drug problem;

2. Reaffirms that the three international drug control conventions, as well as the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime and its three Protocols,<sup>18</sup> the United Nations Convention against Corruption<sup>19</sup> and other relevant international instruments, constitute the international framework for countering drug trafficking and transnational organized crime;

3. Also reaffirms its unwavering commitment to ensure that all aspects of demand reduction, supply reduction and international cooperation are addressed in full conformity with the purposes and principles of the Charter of the United Nations, international law and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights<sup>20</sup> and, in particular, with full respect for the sovereignty and territorial integrity of States, the principle of non-intervention in the internal affairs of States, all human rights, fundamental freedoms, the inherent dignity of all individuals and the principles of equal rights and mutual respect among States;

4. Affirms that the three international drug control conventions, which are moving towards universal adherence, seek to achieve a balance between ensuring the availability of narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances under international control for medical and scientific purposes and preventing their diversion and abuse;

5. Urges all Member States that have not yet done so to consider taking measures to ratify or accede to those instruments and to adopt appropriate measures to effectively implement their provisions at the national level;

6. Urges States to take effective measures at the national, regional and international levels to coordinate their actions and intensify and strengthen their cooperation in order to prevent and act against the world drug problem.

Resolution 55/4

Follow-up on the proposal to organize an international workshop and conference on alternative development

The Commission on Narcotic Drugs,

---

<sup>17</sup> League of Nations, Treaty Series, vol. VIII, No. 222.

<sup>18</sup> United Nations, Treaty Series, vols. 2225, 2237, 2241 and 2326, No. 39574.

<sup>19</sup> Ibid., vol. 2349, No. 42146.

<sup>20</sup> General Assembly resolution 217 A (III).

Bearing in mind the provisions of the Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs of 1961,<sup>21</sup> that Convention as amended by the 1972 Protocol,<sup>22</sup> the Convention on Psychotropic Substances of 1971<sup>23</sup> and the United Nations Convention against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances of 1988,<sup>24</sup>

Recalling the Political Declaration adopted by the General Assembly at its twentieth special session,<sup>25</sup> the Action Plan on International Cooperation on the Eradication of Illicit Drug Crops and on Alternative Development,<sup>26</sup> the Universal Declaration of Human Rights,<sup>27</sup> the United Nations Millennium Declaration<sup>28</sup> and, in particular, the Millennium Development Goals referring to extreme poverty and hunger (goal 1) and ensuring environmental sustainability (goal 7),<sup>29</sup>

Stressing the commitments contained in the Political Declaration and Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem,<sup>30</sup>

Recalling its resolution 52/6 of 20 March 2009, entitled “Promoting best practices and lessons learned for the sustainability and integrality of alternative development programmes”, in which it requested the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, in collaboration with relevant international bodies, to continue promoting best practices and lessons learned from alternative development programmes in various countries, including by organizing an international conference on that topic in 2010,

Recalling also its resolution 53/6 of 12 March 2010, entitled “Follow-up to the promotion of best practices and lessons learned for the sustainability and integrality of alternative development programmes and the proposal to organize an international workshop and conference on alternative development”, in which it welcomed the proposal of Peru and Thailand to jointly host an international workshop, back to back with an international conference, in close collaboration with the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, and its resolution 54/4 of 25 March 2011, entitled “Follow-up on the proposal to organize an international workshop and conference on alternative development”, in which it noted with appreciation that Peru and Thailand remained committed to jointly organizing the above-mentioned events, while also taking into account that close collaboration with the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime was needed to share information and best practices and increase efforts in promoting that sustainable alternative to the illicit cultivation of drug crops,

Reaffirming the role played by developing countries in sharing best practices and promoting and strengthening cooperation on integral and sustainable alternative

---

<sup>21</sup> United Nations, Treaty Series, vol. 520, No. 7515.

<sup>22</sup> Ibid., vol. 976, No. 14152.

<sup>23</sup> Ibid., vol. 1019, No. 14956.

<sup>24</sup> Ibid., vol. 1582, No. 27627.

<sup>25</sup> General Assembly resolution S-20/2, annex.

<sup>26</sup> General Assembly resolution S-20/4 E.

<sup>27</sup> General Assembly resolution 217/A (III).

<sup>28</sup> General Assembly resolution 55/2.

<sup>29</sup> A/56/326, annex.

<sup>30</sup> See Official Records of the Economic and Social Council, 2009, Supplement No. 8 (E/2009/28), chap. I, sect. C.

development, which includes in some cases preventive alternative development, including cross-continental and interregional cooperation and subregional and regional technical cooperation, as expressed in its resolution 53/6,

Recognizing the ongoing discussion within the framework of the Coordination and Cooperation Mechanism on Drugs between the Community of Latin American and Caribbean States and the European Union on the implementation of a mechanism that encourages international market dynamics by facilitating and protecting the production, commercialization and consumption of products of licit origin with added value from vulnerable and affected areas through the use of a global stamp on “alternative development and preventive alternative development”, in conformity with the multilateral trade rules,

1. Acknowledges that alternative development<sup>31</sup> is an important, lawful, viable and sustainable alternative to the illicit cultivation of drug crops, that it is one of the key components of policies and programmes for reducing illicit drug production and that it is an integral part of the efforts made by Governments to achieve sustainable development within their societies;

2. Expresses appreciation to the Government of Thailand for the organization of the International Seminar Workshop on Sustainable Alternative Development, held in the provinces of Chiang Rai and Chiang Mai from 6 to 11 November 2011, in close collaboration with the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, with the aim of sharing best practices and lessons learned in alternative development, gathering inputs and contributions and assessing past and ongoing efforts for the future endeavour of developing a set of international guiding principles to serve as guidelines for more effective alternative development programmes in drug-producing areas;

3. Welcomes the note by the Secretariat on the follow-up to the promotion of best practices and lessons learned for the sustainability and integrality of alternative development programmes and the proposal to organize an international workshop and conference on alternative development,<sup>32</sup> in particular its annex containing inputs for the draft international guiding principles on alternative development, which were unanimously agreed by participants at the International Workshop on Alternative Development;

4. Emphasizes that the inputs for the draft international guiding principles are to be considered by the high-level representatives attending the International Conference on Alternative Development, to be held in Lima on 15 and 16 November 2012, and in that regard requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to invite Member States to provide their comments on the above-mentioned inputs, with a view to submitting them to that conference for its consideration;

5. Looks forward to the above-mentioned International Conference on Alternative Development, to be hosted by the Government of Peru;

---

<sup>31</sup> In accordance with Economic and Social Council resolutions 2006/33, 2007/12 and 2008/26, the concept of alternative development includes preventive alternative development in a manner focusing on the sustainability and integrality of uplifting people’s livelihood.

<sup>32</sup> E/CN.7/2012/8 and Add.1.

6. Urges Member States, the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, international financial institutions, donors, international organizations, non-governmental organizations and other stakeholders involved in development-oriented drug policies to send high-level representatives, accompanied by relevant experts, as appropriate, to actively participate in the International Conference on Alternative Development to be held in Peru;

7. Requests the Executive Director of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to report to the Commission at its fifty-sixth session on the outcome of the Conference and the international guiding principles on alternative development, including the deliberations and recommendations of the conference.

Resolution 55/5

Promoting strategies and measures addressing specific needs of women in the context of comprehensive and integrated drug demand reduction programmes and strategies

The Commission on Narcotic Drugs,

Stressing the commitments contained in the Political Declaration and Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem,<sup>33</sup> adopted during the high-level segment of the fifty-second session of the Commission and by the General Assembly in its resolution 64/182 of 18 December 2009, in which it was stated that Member States should ensure that a broad range of drug demand reduction services provided approaches that took into account gender considerations and served the needs of vulnerable groups,

Recalling the Declaration on the Guiding Principles of Drug Demand Reduction,<sup>34</sup> which states that demand reduction programmes should be effective, relevant and accessible to those groups most at risk, taking into account differences in gender, culture and education,

Recalling also the Declaration on the Elimination of Violence against Women,<sup>35</sup> which states that women are entitled to the right to the highest attainable standard of physical and mental health,

Recalling further the commitments that must be made to inform all activities of the United Nations system with respect to the human rights of women, as expressed in the Vienna Declaration and the Programme of Action adopted by the World Conference on Human Rights,<sup>36</sup>

Reaffirming the commitments to end all discrimination against women expressed in the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination

---

<sup>33</sup> See Official Records of the Economic and Social Council, 2009, Supplement No. 8 (E/2009/28), chap. I, sect. C.

<sup>34</sup> General Assembly resolution S-20/3, annex.

<sup>35</sup> General Assembly resolution 48/104.

<sup>36</sup> A/CONF.157/24 (Part I), chap. III.

Against Women,<sup>37</sup> and in specific the commitment to achieve equal treatment for women in access to health services,

Recalling the commitments made in the United Nations Millennium Declaration<sup>38</sup> to promote gender equality,

Recalling also that the Millennium Development Goals Report 2010<sup>39</sup> stressed that access to care for women was still very problematic in several regions,

Recalling further its resolution 54/5 of 25 March 2011, in which it recognized that drug dependence was a chronic but preventable and treatable multifactorial health disorder, and stressing the need to provide a full continuum of policies and programmes that promote prevention, early detection and intervention, treatment, care and related support services for rehabilitation, social reintegration and recovery,

Recalling the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action adopted at the Fourth World Conference on Women,<sup>40</sup> which states that women have the right to the enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of physical and mental health, and convinced that girls and women should be provided access to health services developed specifically for their needs,

Recalling also General Assembly resolution 65/228 of 21 December 2010, in which the Assembly adopted the updated Model Strategies and Practical Measures on the Elimination of Violence Against Women in the Field of Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice, and General Assembly resolution 65/229 of 21 December 2010, in which the Assembly adopted the United Nations Rules for the Treatment of Women Prisoners and Non-custodial Measures for Women Offenders (the Bangkok Rules),

Recognizing that there is a need for more evidence-based information on all aspects of substance abuse, in particular regarding women-specific aspects, including physiological and psychosocial effects, the characteristics of women with substance use problems and their treatment experiences and also a need to use that information while developing and implementing programmes and strategies,

Concerned that women with substance abuse problems are often deprived of or limited in their access to effective treatment that takes into account their specific needs and circumstances,

Aware that enhanced educational and employment opportunities for women significantly decrease the risk of their drug abuse and dependence and their involvement in drug-related crimes,

Taking into account the need to develop and implement drug demand reduction measures so that they respond best to the specific needs of drug-dependent women and women who abuse drugs, including designated services specifically devoted to those women,

---

<sup>37</sup> United Nations, Treaty Series, vol. 1249, No. 20378.

<sup>38</sup> General Assembly resolution 55/2.

<sup>39</sup> United Nations publication, Sales No. E.10.I.7.

<sup>40</sup> Report of the Fourth World Conference on Women, Beijing, 4-15 September 1995 (United Nations publication, Sales No. E.96.IV.13), chap. I, resolution 1, annex I.

Noting with great concern the adverse consequences of drug abuse for individuals and society as a whole, reaffirming its commitment to tackle those problems in the context of comprehensive, complementary and multisectoral drug demand reduction strategies, in particular such strategies targeting youth, noting with great concern the alarming rise in the incidence of HIV/AIDS and other blood-borne diseases among injecting drug users, reaffirming its commitment to work towards the goal of universal access to comprehensive prevention programmes and treatment, care and related support services, in full compliance with the international drug control conventions and in accordance with national legislation, taking into account all relevant General Assembly resolutions and, when applicable, the WHO, UNODC, UNAIDS Technical Guide for Countries to Set Targets for Universal Access to HIV Prevention, Treatment and Care for Injecting Drug Users,<sup>41</sup> and requesting the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to carry out its mandate in this area in close cooperation with relevant organizations and programmes of the United Nations system, such as the World Health Organization, the United Nations Development Programme and the Joint United Nations Programme on HIV/AIDS,

1. Urges Member States to consider incorporating female-oriented programmes in their drug policies and strategies;

2. Encourages Member States to integrate essential female-specific services in the overall design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of policies and programmes addressing drug abuse and dependence, where needed;

3. Recommends that Member States consider and accommodate the specific needs of drug-dependent parents, including childcare and parental education;

4. Also recommends that Member States, in designing, implementing and evaluating integrated drug prevention and treatment and HIV prevention programmes, take into account the needs of women who have experienced sexual and other violent trauma related to drug abuse;

5. Encourages Member States to take into account the specific needs of women in the prevention, early detection and intervention, treatment and care of drug dependence and drug-related diseases, including infectious diseases and psychiatric disorders, as well as related support services, including for rehabilitation, reintegration and recovery, and to consider designing those services using a multi-agency approach so as to include specific female-oriented measures, promoting effective modalities such as special group offerings for women in inpatient and outpatient settings, family-based treatment and extra occupational training for women as part of recovery activities;

6. Invites Member States to consider implementing, where needed, female-oriented guidelines and quality standards in their drug policies in order to maximize coherence with existing activities, efficient allocation of resources and positive outcomes for drug-dependent women and their children;

7. Encourages Member States to consider promoting the implementation of the updated Model Strategies and Practical Measures on the Elimination of Violence against Women in the Field of Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice, as well as the

---

<sup>41</sup> Geneva, World Health Organization, 2009.

United Nations Rules for the Treatment of Women Prisoners and Non-custodial Measures for Women Offenders (the Bangkok Rules), particularly those provisions related to prevention and treatment programmes designed for women substance abusers, including those in prison settings, taking into account incidents of violence against women, prior victimization, the special needs of pregnant women and women with children, and their diverse cultural backgrounds;

8. Urges Member States to identify and firmly counter discrimination against, as well as degrading and undignified treatment of, drug-dependent women and women who abuse drugs, while simultaneously offering such women timely access to counselling, including voluntary HIV counselling and testing, and treatment and support services for rehabilitation and social integration that take into account the specific needs of women, including parental responsibilities and recovery from trauma related to drug abuse suffered as a result of sexual or other forms of violence;

9. Encourages Member States to consider providing a wide range of measures that match the specific needs of women affected by drug abuse, including pregnant women and women who are parents or guardians with children;

10. Calls upon Member States to pay due attention to the specific needs of women while applying the relevant target goals as set forth in the Political Declaration on HIV and AIDS adopted by the General Assembly in its resolution 65/277 of 10 June 2011 and incorporating those goals in their relevant national strategies and measures as set forth in the Political Declaration and Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem;<sup>42</sup>

11. Invites the United Nations Interregional Crime and Justice Research Institute to share with it and with the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime the information on experiences with respect to relevant programmes and measures addressing specific needs of women, with a view to considering appropriate follow-up measures;

12. Encourages the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to raise awareness among United Nations agencies regarding the need to design educational and employment opportunity modules that may be used in programmes and strategies to prevent drug abuse and dependence and the involvement of women in drug-related crimes;

13. Invites the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to work with relevant United Nations agencies, including the United Nations Interregional Crime and Justice Research Institute, to assist and support Member States in developing and adapting measures and strategies, at the national, regional and international levels, addressing the specific needs of women as an essential element of more effective, just and human rights-based policies;

14. Requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to facilitate the gathering and dissemination of information provided by Member States on their efforts to implement the present resolution;

---

<sup>42</sup> See Official Records of the Economic and Social Council, 2009, Supplement No. 8 (E/2009/28), chap. I, sect. C.

15. Also requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to integrate into its future public-awareness campaigns information emphasizing the importance of an integrated approach to the specific needs of women;

16. Invites the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to coordinate as appropriate with civil society and the private sector in addressing the specific needs of women in the context of drug demand reduction, with a view to the expansion of the range and coverage of programmes addressing drug abuse and dependence of women, in accordance with national legislation and in full compliance with the international drug control conventions;

17. Invites Member States and other donors to consider providing extrabudgetary resources for these purposes in accordance with the rules and procedures of the United Nations.

Resolution 55/6

Developing an international electronic import and export authorization system for licit trade in narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances

The Commission on Narcotic Drugs,

Recalling its resolution 50/7 of 16 March 2007, in which it urged Member States to pay particular attention to security measures concerning import and export documents relating to substances under international control,

Recalling also article 31 of the Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs of 1961 as amended by the 1972 Protocol<sup>43</sup> and article 12 of the Convention on Psychotropic Substances of 1971,<sup>44</sup> which require the issuance of import and export authorizations for narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances,

Noting that there has been an increased volume of international trade in narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances over the past decade, which has increased the workload of competent national authorities with respect to administering the system of import and export authorization for narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances foreseen in the above-mentioned Conventions,

Reaffirming that ensuring access to controlled narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances for medical and scientific purposes is one of the fundamental objectives of the international drug control conventions,

Recalling the publication entitled Report of the International Narcotics Control Board on the Availability of Internationally Controlled Drugs: Ensuring Adequate Access for Medical and Scientific Purposes,<sup>45</sup> a supplement to the report of the International Narcotics Control Board for 2010,<sup>46</sup> which highlighted the fact

---

<sup>43</sup> United Nations, Treaty Series, vol. 976, No. 14152.

<sup>44</sup> Ibid., vol. 1019, No. 14956.

<sup>45</sup> United Nations publication, Sales No. E.11.XI.7.

<sup>46</sup> Report of the International Narcotics Control Board for 2010 (United Nations publication, Sales No. E.11.XI.1).

that the consumption of narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances in many countries has been below the levels required to ensure the adequate availability of those narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances for medical and/or scientific purposes and provided recommendations on how to increase access to those substances while preventing their diversion for illicit purposes,

Recognizing that some Governments have followed the recommendations contained in the above-mentioned publication and taken measures to ensure the availability of narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances for medical and scientific purposes, which will lead to further increases in international trade in those substances and subsequently increase the workload of competent national authorities with respect to issuing import and export authorizations for those substances,

Welcoming the fact that technological advancements have enabled some Governments to develop or utilize national systems for issuing import and export authorizations electronically, including the National Drug Control System developed by the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, and that those national systems have significantly improved the efficiency of workflow,

Noting that, under the current international agreements, none of those national systems of competent national authorities may directly transmit notifications of authorizations to, or receive them from, their counterparts in other countries and that such notifications of import and export authorizations are still sent in the form of hard-copy printouts,

Concerned that the exchange of paper documents not only increases the risk of forgery, but also increases the workload of receiving authorities and may delay legitimate transactions, as the authorities must verify the authenticity of import or export authorizations,

Reaffirming the need to strengthen security and safety measures concerning import and export authorizations in order to avoid forgery of those authorizations and prevent trafficking in controlled substances,

Welcoming the consideration of the initiative of the International Narcotics Control Board to develop an international electronic import and export authorization system for substances under international control, which would complement existing national electronic systems and facilitate the exchange of import and export authorizations between importing and exporting countries,

Noting that the initiative also represents an opportunity for competent national authorities to exchange information in real time about transactions that need further processing,

Acknowledging that the International Narcotics Control Board, in its report for 2011,<sup>47</sup> drew the attention of Governments to the positive results of preliminary research and consultations carried out by interested Governments, the Board and the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime on the technical requirements of an international electronic import and export authorization system,

---

<sup>47</sup> Report of the International Narcotics Control Board for 2011 (United Nations publication, Sales No. E.12.XI.5).

Taking note of the fact that the further development of such an authorization system would rely on voluntary contributions from Member States,

1. Encourages Member States to provide the fullest possible financial and political support for developing, maintaining and administering an international electronic import and export authorization system for narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances under international control, in accordance with the requirements of the international drug control conventions;

2. Requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to undertake the development and maintenance of the authorization system, in consultation with interested Governments and the International Narcotics Control Board;

3. Also requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to consider taking into account domestic requirements while developing the proposed system;

4. Further requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to assist, upon request, Member States that have not established electronic import and export authorization systems;

5. Invites the secretariat of the International Narcotics Control Board, in carrying out its mandate, to administer the authorization system during the start-up phase in the current biennium, in line with the international drug control conventions, and to report orally on the progress made during the next session of the Commission;

6. Invites Member States and other donors to provide extrabudgetary contributions for those purposes, in accordance with the rules and procedures of the United Nations.

Resolution 55/7

Promoting measures to prevent drug overdose, in particular opioid overdose

The Commission on Narcotic Drugs,

Reiterating the commitments made in the Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs of 1961,<sup>48</sup> in the preamble to which the parties to the Convention expressed concern for the health and welfare of mankind; recognition that the medical use of narcotic drugs continues to be indispensable for the relief of pain and suffering and that adequate provision must be made to ensure the availability of narcotic drugs for medical purposes; and recognition that addiction to narcotic drugs constitutes a serious evil for individuals and is fraught with social and economic danger to mankind,

Recalling the Political Declaration and Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem,<sup>49</sup> which stressed the need to strengthen efforts aimed at reducing the adverse consequences of drug abuse for individuals and society as a whole, taking into consideration all health consequences, such as overdose,

---

<sup>48</sup> United Nations, Treaty Series, vol. 520, No. 7515.

<sup>49</sup> See Official Records of the Economic and Social Council, 2009, Supplement No. 8 (E/2009/28), chap. I, sect. C.

Taking note of the Action Plan for the Implementation of the Declaration on the Guiding Principles of Drug Demand Reduction, adopted by the General Assembly in its resolution 54/132 of 17 December 1999, which, inter alia, recognized that demand reduction programmes should cover all areas of drug abuse prevention, ranging from discouraging the initial use of illicit drugs to reducing the negative health and social consequences of drug abuse,

Recalling its resolution 43/3 of 15 March 2000, in which the Commission requested Member States to find strategies and increase access to and availability of services designed to reach drug users who are not integrated into or reached by existing services and are at high risk of severe health damage, drug-related infectious diseases and even fatal incidents, in order to reduce individual and public health risks,

Reaffirming that the prevention of all drug abuse is of primary importance to all Member States,

Noting that the World Drug Report 2011<sup>50</sup> highlighted the high proportion of drug overdose deaths that are specifically associated with opioids,

Convinced of the need to improve the quality, coverage and variety of drug demand reduction and related measures, including those targeting the prevention of drug overdose, in particular opioid overdose, as part of a continuum of health and social care,

Understanding that opioid overdose treatment, including the provision of opioid receptor antagonists such as naloxone, is part of a comprehensive approach to services for drug users and can reverse the effects of opioids and prevent mortality,

Recognizing that a range of factors contribute to drug overdose, including mental health problems and polysubstance use, indicating the need for a comprehensive response that includes supply reduction, information-sharing, education, emergency responses and treatment,

Affirming that close cooperation at all levels among experts from the criminal justice, health, social and drug control sectors is critical in devising an effective and scientific evidence-based response to drug overdose prevention, in particular opioid overdose prevention, for drug users,

Recognizing that fatalities due to drug overdose, in particular opioid overdose, can be substantially reduced through effective drug abuse prevention strategies, the provision of information, counselling, education, drug treatment, and related support measures, monitoring and programming,

1. Encourages all Member States to include effective elements for the prevention and treatment of drug overdose, in particular opioid overdose, in national drug policies, where appropriate, and to share best practices and information on the prevention and treatment of drug overdose, in particular opioid overdose, including the use of opioid receptor antagonists such as naloxone;

---

<sup>50</sup> United Nations publication, Sales No. E.11.XI.10.

2. Requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, in collaboration with the World Health Organization, subject to the availability of extrabudgetary resources and upon the request of and in collaboration with Member States, to collect and circulate available best practices on the prevention and treatment of and emergency response to drug overdose, in particular opioid overdose, including on the use and availability of opioid receptor antagonists such as naloxone and other measures based on scientific evidence;<sup>51</sup>

3. Also requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, in collaboration with other relevant international organizations, including the World Health Organization, as appropriate, subject to the availability of extrabudgetary resources, to provide Member States, upon request, with advice and guidance based on scientific evidence, and provide capacity-building, on preventing mortality from drug overdose, in particular opioid overdose;

4. Further requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, in collaboration with other relevant international organizations, including the World Health Organization, as appropriate, to include initiatives to prevent mortality from drug overdose, in particular opioid overdose, and related mental health issues as part of their drug demand reduction programming;

5. Encourages Member States, with support where requested from the United Nations Office of Drugs and Crime, to strive to ensure that all efforts are made to implement comprehensive supply and demand reduction programmes that promote the health and well-being of their citizens in accordance with national legislation;

6. Invites Member States and other donors to consider providing extrabudgetary resources in accordance with the rules and procedures of the United Nations.

Resolution 55/8

Follow-up to the Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem with respect to the development of strategies on special marketing regimes for alternative development, including preventive alternative development

The Commission on Narcotic Drugs,

Recalling the United Nations Convention against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances of 1988,<sup>52</sup> the Political Declaration adopted by the General Assembly at its twentieth special session<sup>53</sup> and the Political Declaration and Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem,<sup>54</sup> adopted in 2009, including article 49 (b) of the Plan of Action, in which Member States were advised that they should develop strategies consistent with domestic legal frameworks, including the utilization of local expertise, capacity-building and entrepreneurship, to develop products through alternative development<sup>55</sup> programmes identified on the basis of market demand and value-added production chains, as well as secure and stable markets with fair prices for producers, in accordance with international trade rules, including the required infrastructure and a conducive environment, including roads, the establishment of farmer associations and the use of special marketing regimes, for example, those based on fair-trade principles and commerce in organic products,

---

<sup>51</sup> See, for example, the World Health Organization's Guidelines for the Psychosocially Assisted Pharmacological Treatment of Opioid Dependence (Geneva, 2009).

<sup>52</sup> United Nations, Treaty Series, vol. 1582, No. 27627.

Reaffirming its resolution 45/14 of 15 March 2002, in which it invited Member States to make more comprehensive and determined efforts in the area of financial and technical cooperation aimed at promoting alternative development, including preventive alternative development, with the understanding that such cooperation, in the long term, may achieve positive results that not only satisfy economic criteria but also take into account social, political and environmental factors,

Reaffirming also Economic and Social Council resolution 2003/37 of 22 July 2003, entitled “Strengthening alternative development through trade and socio-environmental preservation”, in which the United Nations International Drug Control Programme and all Member States were urged to continue to cooperate effectively on programmes to promote alternative development, including, where appropriate, preventive alternative development, in accordance with the provisions of Commission resolution 45/14,

Considering that alternative development, including, where appropriate, preventive alternative development, constitutes an international policy founded on the principle of shared responsibility that seeks to discourage the cultivation of illicit crops in countries affected by that problem and those vulnerable to illicit activities relating to the chain of production and stockpiling of and trafficking in narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances,

Taking into account the need to strengthen and renew international cooperation measures in order to be able to effectively address the changing dynamics of the world drug problem,

Noting with concern that there is a high risk that licit crops grown adjacent to areas of illicit crop cultivation will be displaced or replaced by illicit crop cultivation,

Recognizing the need to promote products of licit origin stemming from alternative development, including preventive alternative development programmes, including those products with added value from areas affected by and vulnerable to

---

<sup>53</sup> General Assembly resolution S-20/2, annex.

<sup>54</sup> See Official Records of the Economic and Social Council, 2009, Supplement No. 8 (E/2009/28), chap. I, sect. C.

<sup>55</sup> In accordance with Economic and Social Council resolution 2006/33 and 2007/12, the concept of alternative development includes preventive alternative development.

the world drug problem, thus creating and promoting licit economic options for populations and their territories,

Noting that the use of special marketing regimes, for example, those based on fair-trade principles and commerce in organic products, may be an effective strategy to increase the success of projects for alternative development, including preventive alternative development,

Taking note of the presentation made by the Government of Ecuador to participants at the fifty-fifth session of the Commission, entitled “The global stamp for alternative development and preventive alternative development”, describing a proposal for a global stamp for products of alternative development, including preventive alternative development, which had also been presented at the Thirteenth High-level Meeting of the Coordination and Cooperation Mechanism on Drugs between the Community of Latin American and Caribbean States and the European Union, held in Bogota on 28 and 29 June 2011,

1. Invites Member States, in accordance with the principle of common and shared responsibility, to promote legal options that are socially, economically and environmentally sustainable and that contribute comprehensively to alternative development, including, where appropriate, preventive alternative development, for populations being affected by or at risk of being affected by illicit drug crop cultivation and related activities;

2. Encourages Member States, when appropriate and in accordance with the United Nations Convention against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances of 1988,<sup>56</sup> to undertake efforts to protect populations living in affected and vulnerable areas, including areas where licit crops are at risk of displacement by illicit crops because licit crops are grown adjacent to illicit crops;

3. Encourages participatory approaches from all stakeholders, including groups at risk of starting to illicitly cultivate crops used for the production of narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances, in the identification, preparation, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of alternative development;

4. Encourages Member States to reach out to States not affected by illicit drug crop cultivation and to the private sector with a view to providing greater access to markets for alternative development products, consistent with national and international obligations, and taking into account applicable multilateral trade rules;

5. Encourages Member States to engage in dialogue and share experiences and proposals on special marketing regimes in the field of alternative development, including preventive alternative development, such as a global stamp for products stemming from alternative development programmes, and invites Member States to consider these issues at the International Conference on Alternative Development, to be hosted by the Governments of Thailand and Peru in Lima on 15 and 16 November 2012, and other appropriate forums;

6. Invites Member States to share their experiences with and proposals on special marketing regimes, including a global stamp for products stemming from alternative development programmes, including, as appropriate, preventive alternative development, in connection with the report on the outcome of the International Conference on Alternative Development, to be prepared pursuant to Commission resolution 55/4 of 16 March 2012, entitled “Follow-up on the proposal to organize an international workshop and conference on alternative development”.

---

<sup>56</sup> United Nations, Treaty Series, vol. 1582, No. 27627.

Resolution 55/9

Follow-up on measures to support African States in their efforts to combat the world drug problem

The Commission on Narcotic Drugs,

Recalling the provisions of the Single Convention on Narcotics Drugs of 1961 as amended by the 1972 Protocol,<sup>57</sup> the Convention on Psychotropic Substances of 1971<sup>58</sup> and the United Nations Convention against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances of 1988,<sup>59</sup>

Recalling also the Political Declaration and Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem,<sup>60</sup> taking into account the principle of shared and common responsibility,

Recalling further the outcomes of the Twentieth Meeting of Heads of National Drug Law Enforcement Agencies, Africa, held in Nairobi from 13 to 17 September 2010,

Reaffirming the provisions of its resolution 54/14 of 25 March 2011 on measures to support African States in their efforts to combat the world drug problem,

Bearing in mind the commitments set out at the fourth session of the African Union Conference of Ministers for Drug Control and Crime Prevention, held in Addis Ababa from 28 September to 2 October 2010, to fight the illicit cultivation and abuse of cannabis, actively address the control of precursor chemicals and develop adequate monitoring and regulatory systems for ensuring the availability of drugs for medical and scientific purposes while preventing their diversion and abuse,

Taking note with concern of the report of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime on the world situation with regard to drug abuse, in which it was highlighted that there is a lack of current information on most epidemiological indicators on drug use, caused by a lack of reliable drug information and sustainable monitoring systems in some parts of the world, which hinders the monitoring of changing and emerging trends, the implementation of evidence-based responses and the ability to assess the effectiveness of those responses,

---

<sup>57</sup> Ibid., vol. 976, No. 14152.

<sup>58</sup> Ibid., vol. 1019, No. 14956.

<sup>59</sup> Ibid., vol. 1582, No. 27627.

<sup>60</sup> See Official Records of the Economic and Social Council, 2009, Supplement No. 8 (E/2009/28), chap. I, sect. C.

Noting with concern the challenges posed by the links between drug trafficking, corruption and other forms of transnational organized crime,

Recalling that in the Political Declaration and Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem, Member States took account of the need for indicators and instruments for the collection and analysis of accurate, reliable and comparable data on all relevant aspects of the world drug problem,

Acknowledging the progress made by African States in the implementation of the Revised African Union Plan of Action on Drug Control and Crime Prevention (2007-2012) and the mechanism for its implementation, follow-up and evaluation,

Recognizing the importance of subregional programmes developed and/or implemented by African States, as well as by African States in partnership with the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime,

Welcoming the progress made by African States in combating the world drug problem, and reaffirming the importance of viable and sustainable alternative development programmes aimed at contributing to the fight against the production of illicit drugs,

Looking forward to the adoption of the African Union plan of action on drug control and crime prevention (2013-2018) at the African Union Conference of Ministers for Drug Control and Crime Prevention, to be held in Addis Ababa in December 2012,

1. Encourages the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime and other partners, as well as the intergovernmental regional bodies, to continue their work in countering drug trafficking and organized crime, in particular the activities aimed at enhancing the capacity of the national agencies of Member States;

2. Invites Member States, in close consultation with the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, donors and other relevant international organizations, to provide support, including financial support, taking into account specific needs and available resources, in capacity-building and quality-enhancing activities in support of the efforts of African States to combat the drug problem, with particular emphasis on the areas of law enforcement, forensic science laboratories, data-collection systems and services involved in prevention, treatment and social integration, the judiciary and the drafting of legislation;

3. Also invites the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to continue to provide technical assistance, upon request, to support African States so as to achieve an effective implementation of the provisions of the three international drug control conventions, as well as the Political Declaration and Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem,<sup>61</sup> including strengthening their legal systems, enhancing the analytical work of laboratories and developing indicators and instruments for the collection and analysis of accurate, reliable and comparable data on all aspects of the drug problem in the region;

---

<sup>61</sup> See Official Records of the Economic and Social Council, 2009, Supplement No. 8 (E/2009/28), chap. I, sect. C.

4. Requests the Executive Director of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to report to the Commission at its fifty-sixth session on the implementation of the present resolution.

Resolution 55/10

Promoting evidence-based drug prevention strategies and policies

The Commission on Narcotic Drugs,

Recalling the Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs of 1961,<sup>62</sup> that Convention as amended by the 1972 Protocol,<sup>63</sup> the Convention on Psychotropic Substances of 1971,<sup>64</sup> the United Nations Convention against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances of 1988,<sup>65</sup> the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime<sup>66</sup> and the United Nations Convention against Corruption,<sup>67</sup>

Recalling also the Political Declaration adopted by the General Assembly at its twentieth special session<sup>68</sup> and the Political Declaration and Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem,<sup>69</sup> adopted during the high-level segment of the fifty-second session of the Commission and by the General Assembly in its resolution 64/182 of 18 December 2009,

Recalling further its resolution 53/2 of 12 March 2010, entitled “Preventing the use of illicit drugs within Member States and strengthening international cooperation on policies of drug abuse prevention”,

Recognizing that the world drug problem continues to pose a serious threat to the health, safety and well-being of all humanity, in particular youth,

Taking into account that the demand for drugs has a direct impact on the supply of drugs,

Aware of the violence generated by the world drug problem at all levels of the chain of consumption,

Recognizing that drug addiction is a chronic but preventable and treatable multifactorial health disorder,

---

<sup>62</sup> United Nations, Treaty Series, vol. 520, No. 7515.

<sup>63</sup> Ibid., vol. 976, No. 14152.

<sup>64</sup> Ibid., vol. 1019, No. 14956.

<sup>65</sup> Ibid., vol. 1582, No. 27627.

<sup>66</sup> Ibid., vol. 2225, No. 39574.

<sup>67</sup> Ibid., vol. 2349, No. 42146.

<sup>68</sup> General Assembly resolution S-20/2, annex.

<sup>69</sup> See Official Records of the Economic and Social Council, 2009, Supplement No. 8 (E/2009/28), chap. I, sect. C.

Noting that a considerable body of evidence developed through the science of prevention now exists,

Bearing in mind that, in order to reduce the adverse consequences of drug abuse, a comprehensive approach is crucial, which includes primary prevention, early intervention, treatment, care, rehabilitation, social reintegration and related support services,

Noting that conditions such as depression and anxiety, if not responded to effectively, may lead to the use of illicit drugs and addiction,

Bearing in mind that prevention measures must have an evidence-based approach to enhance their results, in particular regarding populations at risk,

Bearing in mind also that prevention is a developmental process, with exposure to risk changing at each life stage of individuals, and that prevention strategies should be designed for the domains where individuals encounter risks as they grow older,

Recognizing that families, schools, workplaces and communities, inter alia, serve as opportune domains for preventing drug use problems,

Welcoming the ongoing work of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime in developing international standards on drug use prevention,

1. Urges Member States to develop, promote and implement cost-effective policies and interventions to prevent the use of illicit drugs, with special emphasis on children, youth and populations at risk and utilizing current academic, scientific and practitioner-based studies to achieve that objective;
2. Also urges Member States to continue to raise the awareness of policymakers of the risks and the threats posed to society by abuse of drugs and of the individual and social conditions that make people vulnerable to abusing drugs;
3. Encourages Member States to target their prevention programmes towards domains where individuals, in particular children and youth, are most likely to encounter illicit drugs;
4. Also encourages Member States to develop and implement specific policies and interventions aimed at the healthy and safe development of children and youth that are particularly vulnerable to individual or environmental risks;
5. Further encourages Member States to take into account gender-specific services in their drug prevention systems;
6. Encourages Member States to promote public health and healthy lifestyles, such as physical activities, sport and recreation programmes, in order to facilitate drug prevention;
7. Also encourages Member States to engage in close coordination with all stakeholders in their societies to target prevention with a cross-cutting and multidisciplinary approach;
8. Urges the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to continue gathering information on national and international experiences and best practices, to make available information on evidence-based prevention activities and instruments and to provide States with guidance and assistance in developing strategies and programmes to incorporate those successful experiences, upon request and subject to the availability of extrabudgetary resources;

9. Encourages Member States to cooperate, on both the bilateral and regional levels, to strengthen national capacities with respect to prevention policies and their implementation;

10. Also encourages Member States to exchange experiences and best practices on the prevention of the use of illicit drugs in families, schools, universities, workplaces, communities and other domains;

11. Requests the Executive Director of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to report to the Commission at its fifty-sixth session on the measures taken and on progress achieved in the implementation of the present resolution.

Resolution 55/11

Follow-up to the Third Ministerial Conference of the Paris Pact Partners on Combating Illicit Traffic in Opiates Originating in Afghanistan

The Commission on Narcotic Drugs,

Reaffirming the commitments undertaken by Member States in the Political Declaration and Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem,<sup>70</sup> in which Member States recognized that action against the world drug problem was a common and shared responsibility and expressed their conviction that it must be addressed in a multilateral setting,

Welcoming the Paris Pact initiative, one of the most important frameworks in the fight against opiates originating in Afghanistan and aimed at the reduction of illicit traffic in opiates, including opium poppy cultivation and production and global consumption of heroin and other opiates, and at the establishment of a broad international coalition to combat illicit traffic in opiates,

Welcoming also the international conferences of the Paris Pact partners at the ministerial level, held in Paris in 2003 and in Moscow in 2006, and looking forward to future such ministerial meetings on a regular basis,

Taking note with concern of the report of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime entitled Afghanistan: Opium Survey 2011, in which it was stated that, despite the continued efforts of the Government of Afghanistan and the international community, in 2011, following a decrease in previous years, caused mostly by plant disease, estimated opium production there had significantly increased,

Noting with concern that the number of poppy-free provinces in the country decreased from 20 in 2010 to 17 in 2011 following increases in previous years, and acknowledging the strong link between lack of security and opium poppy cultivation,

---

<sup>70</sup> See Official Records of the Economic and Social Council, 2009, Supplement No. 8 (E/2009/28), chap. I, sect. C.

Noting also the report of the International Narcotics Control Board for 2011 on precursors and chemicals frequently used in the illicit manufacture of narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances,<sup>71</sup> in which the Board stressed the need to implement the tools of precursor control provided by the international system of controls more comprehensively within countries and at the global level and emphasized that the diversion of some chemicals, such as acetic anhydride, from domestic distribution channels — with subsequent cross-border smuggling — had become the most common method of obtaining precursor chemicals for use in the illicit manufacture of drugs, including heroin,

Aware of the need to enhance coordinated, comprehensive and effective measures to reduce the cultivation of opium poppy and the production of, trafficking in and consumption of opiates, and noting that Paris Pact partners, in the Vienna Declaration adopted by the Third Ministerial Conference of the Paris Pact Partners on Combating Illicit Traffic in Opiates Originating in Afghanistan,<sup>72</sup> recognized the threat they pose to international peace and stability in different regions of the world,

Acknowledging the principle of full respect for the sovereignty and territorial integrity of States and the principle of non-intervention in the internal affairs of States,

Noting that the sustained menace of illicit drugs adversely affects the social, economic, cultural and political foundations of society and undermines sustainable development,

Recalling Economic and Social Council resolution 2007/11 of 25 July 2007, entitled “Support to the counter-narcotics measures and programmes of Afghanistan”,

Welcoming the ongoing efforts of the Government of Afghanistan in the fight against narcotic drugs,

Commending the activities carried out by the States neighbouring Afghanistan to promote cooperation aimed at countering the illicit traffic in opiates and the smuggling of their precursor chemicals into Afghanistan,

Expressing its support for the efforts of Member States aimed at strengthening international and regional cooperation in order to counter the threat to the international community posed by illicit traffic in opiates, paying due attention to strengthening and implementing regional initiatives to combat illicit traffic in opiates, detecting and blocking financial flows linked thereto, preventing the diversion of precursor chemicals used in illicit manufacturing of opiates in Afghanistan and reducing drug abuse and dependence through a comprehensive approach,

---

<sup>71</sup> Precursors and Chemicals Frequently Used in the Illicit Manufacture of Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances: Report of the International Narcotics Control Board for 2011 on the Implementation of Article 12 of the United Nations Convention against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances of 1988 (United Nations publication, Sales No. E.12.XI.4).

<sup>72</sup> See E/CN.7/2012/17.

Acknowledging the importance of a regional approach in tackling the illicit cultivation of opium poppy and the production of and trafficking in opiates originating in Afghanistan,

Supporting the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime in its efforts to coordinate effective and results-oriented assistance to Afghanistan and neighbouring countries, including through its regional programme for Afghanistan and neighbouring countries,

Bearing in mind the outcomes of the international conferences on Afghanistan held in Istanbul, Turkey, in November 2011 and in Bonn, Germany, in December 2011, which included counter-narcotics as a cross-cutting theme,

Recalling its resolution 54/7 of 25 March 2011, in which it welcomed the decision taken by the reconvened meeting of the Paris Pact Policy Consultative Group, held in Vienna on 17 March 2011, to convene in Vienna in the second half of 2011, in continuation of the Paris Pact initiative, an international conference at the ministerial level, and encouraged that conference to contribute to strengthening the commitment of Member States to combating the illicit trade in opiates,

Convinced that the results of the Third Ministerial Conference of the Paris Pact Partners on Combating Illicit Traffic in Opiates Originating in Afghanistan, held in Vienna on 16 February 2012, should be translated into effective action by States, the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, competent organs of the United Nations and other relevant actors,

1. Takes note with appreciation of the report of the Executive Director of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime on the Paris Pact initiative;<sup>73</sup>
2. Welcomes the outcome of the Third Ministerial Conference of the Paris Pact Partners on Combating Illicit Traffic in Opiates Originating in Afghanistan, facilitated by the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime in cooperation with the Governments of Austria, France and the Russian Federation, in continuation of the Paris Pact initiative;
3. Expresses its satisfaction with the spirit of international solidarity and cooperation that made the preparations for the Conference and the Conference itself a success;
4. Calls upon Member States, in cooperation with the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, the International Narcotics Control Board and other competent international organizations, to promote the full implementation of the Vienna Declaration adopted by the Conference,<sup>74</sup> including, as appropriate, by means of facilitating partnerships with the private sector and civil society;
5. Calls upon the international community, including the Government of Afghanistan, to continue those efforts while making them more comprehensive, effective and results-oriented;
6. Encourages Member States to enhance coordination through existing regional mechanisms, including through the Paris Pact initiative, in order to strengthen cross-border cooperation and information exchange with a view to countering trafficking in opiates originating in Afghanistan;

---

<sup>73</sup> E/CN.7/2012/10.

<sup>74</sup> See E/CN.7/2012/17.

7. Notes the importance of taking measures to ensure effective follow-up to the Conference;

8. Takes note with appreciation of the initiative of the Executive Director of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to prepare a compendium of concrete ideas and proposals aimed at strengthening the Paris Pact initiative and implementing the Vienna Declaration as expressed by Paris Pact partners at the Conference, which may be used by the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime in its programme activities in consultation with Member States;

9. Welcomes the third phase of the Paris Pact and the operational outcome it is to deliver, and also welcomes the intention of Paris Pact partners to discuss the modalities of a fourth phase at their next Policy Consultative Group meeting after due evaluation of the third phase;

10. Requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to continue to cooperate with Member States in identifying and meeting the needs for technical assistance, including in the priority areas mentioned in the Vienna Declaration;

11. Expresses its appreciation to the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime for the work done in the preparations for and facilitation of the organization of the Conference;

12. Expresses its gratitude to the Governments of Austria and the Russian Federation for providing the extrabudgetary resources and facilities that were necessary to convene the Conference;

13. Requests the Executive Director of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to report to the Commission at its fifty-sixth session on the measures taken and on progress achieved in the implementation of the present resolution;

14. Invites Member States and other donors to contribute extrabudgetary resources for these purposes in accordance with the rules and regulations of the United Nations.

Resolution 55/12

Alternatives to imprisonment for certain offences as demand reduction strategies that promote public health and public safety

The Commission on Narcotic Drugs,

Recalling that the world drug problem remains a common and shared responsibility that requires effective and increased international cooperation and demands an integrated, multidisciplinary, mutually reinforcing and balanced approach to drug supply and demand reduction strategies,

Reaffirming the Political Declaration adopted by the General Assembly at its twentieth special session,<sup>75</sup> the Declaration on the Guiding Principles of Drug Demand Reduction,<sup>76</sup> the Action Plan for the Implementation of the Declaration on the Guiding Principles of Drug Demand Reduction<sup>77</sup> and the Political Declaration and Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem,<sup>78</sup>

Recalling that the international drug control conventions establish, to varying degrees and in specific situations, that States may provide, either as an alternative to conviction or punishment or in addition to conviction or punishment, that drug-using offenders should undergo measures of treatment, education, aftercare, rehabilitation or social reintegration,<sup>79</sup>

Recognizing that drug users who repeatedly commit criminal offences pose challenges and create costs for Member States, society and families through their need for effective supervision through imprisonment or other means, as appropriate,

Recalling General Assembly resolution 66/183 of 19 December 2011, on international cooperation against the world drug problem, in which the Assembly reiterated the commitment of Member States to promoting, developing, reviewing or strengthening effective, comprehensive and integrated drug demand reduction programmes, based on scientific evidence and covering a range of measures, including primary prevention, education, early detection and intervention, treatment, care and related support services, recovery support, rehabilitation and social reintegration efforts, aimed at promoting health and social well-being among individuals, families and communities and reducing the adverse consequences of drug abuse for individuals and society as a whole,

Recalling also the Salvador Declaration on Comprehensive Strategies for Global Challenges: Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice Systems and Their Development in a Changing World, adopted by the Twelfth United Nations Congress on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice, held in Salvador, Brazil, from 12 to 19 April 2010, and endorsed by the General Assembly in its resolution 65/230 of 21 December 2010, in which Member States stressed the need to reinforce alternatives to imprisonment, which may include community service, restorative justice and electronic monitoring, and support rehabilitation and reintegration programmes, including those to correct offending behaviour, and educational and vocational programmes for prisoners,

Noting that, in addressing the world drug problem, the main objective is to ensure the health and welfare of individuals, and that providing alternatives to

---

<sup>75</sup> General Assembly resolution S-20/2, annex.

<sup>76</sup> General Assembly resolution S-20/3, annex.

<sup>77</sup> General Assembly resolution 54/132, annex.

<sup>78</sup> See Official Records of the Economic and Social Council, 2009, Supplement No. 8 (E/2009/28), chap. I, sect. C.

<sup>79</sup> Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs of 1961 as amended by the 1972 Protocol (United Nations, Treaty Series, vol. 976, No. 14152), art. 36, para. 1 (b); Convention on Psychotropic Substances of 1971 (United Nations, Treaty Series, vol. 1019, No. 14956), art. 22, para. 1 (b); United Nations Convention against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances of 1988 (United Nations, Treaty Series, vol. 1582, No. 27627), art. 3, paras. 4 (b) and (c).

imprisonment has, for some Member States, provided a successful means of promoting social reintegration with full respect for human rights,

Taking note of the efforts of Member States to create new tools in support of comprehensive demand reduction policies, including but not restricted to alternatives to prosecution and imprisonment for drug-using offenders, including treatment, as appropriate,

Taking note also of the various systems used in Member States to provide treatment for drug dependence, including systems that offer such treatment as a matter of right in any setting, and systems that offer such treatment as an alternative to, or in addition to, imprisonment,

Recalling that, in the Political Declaration and Plan of Action on International Cooperation towards an Integrated and Balanced Strategy to Counter the World Drug Problem, it is noted that there are limited alternatives to prosecution and imprisonment for drug-using offenders and that treatment services within the criminal justice system are frequently inadequate,

Taking note that some Member States have adopted measures as alternatives to prosecution and imprisonment for drug-using offenders, and that such measures have included, among other things, specific legal procedures, community service and drug-use monitoring with consequences for non-compliance, and noting that such measures have been shown to reduce recidivism rates, facilitate rehabilitation and, at the same time, conserve human and financial resources, rebuild families and help to reconstitute the social fabric,

Stressing the importance of strengthening cooperation among competent authorities with a view to reinforcing treatment programmes, and emphasizing in that regard the potential benefits of coordination between the health and justice sectors in order to reduce drug abuse,

Acknowledging that for some Member States the application of alternative measures to prosecution and imprisonment of drug-using offenders is not provided for in national legislation and so is not applicable,

Bearing in mind the importance of maintaining the integrity of applicable national legislation, in particular criminal law,

1. Encourages Member States, working within their legal frameworks and in compliance with applicable international law, to consider allowing the full implementation of drug-dependence treatment and care options for offenders, in particular, when appropriate, providing treatment as an alternative to incarceration, in order to help strengthen drug demand reduction policies while promoting both public health and public safety;

2. Invites Member States that have successful experiences regarding the implementation of evidence-based alternative approaches to the prosecution and imprisonment of drug-using offenders to share their experiences and good practices, including examples of legislation, and to provide technical assistance to interested States, upon request;

3. Encourages Member States to promote coordination and cooperation between competent authorities, such as health, public security and justice authorities, as well as service providers, with a view to identifying and developing cost-effective, evidence-based approaches, including but not restricted to exploring or implementing, where appropriate and in accordance with national legislation, alternatives to prosecution and imprisonment for drug-using offenders;

4. Invites Member States to consider including in their national anti-drug strategies alternative approaches to prosecution and imprisonment for drug-using offenders that could act as a valuable link between demand reduction programmes, particularly those relating to treatment, and the areas of law enforcement and justice;

5. Requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to provide Member States, upon request, with guidance, tools and assistance in developing evidence-based alternative approaches to prosecution and imprisonment for drug-using offenders;

6. Also requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to make information on alternative approaches to prosecution and imprisonment for drug-using offenders, including research results of promising initiatives for public health and public safety, available to Member States, international organizations and donors;

7. Requests the Executive Director of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to report to the Commission at its fifty-sixth session on the measures taken and on the progress achieved in the implementation of the present resolution.