

Education for Justice

Supporting the integration of crime prevention and the rule of law into all levels of education

Adopted at the conclusion of the 13th United Nations Congress on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice, the Doha Declaration highlights the importance of education as a tool to preventing crime and corruption. It emphasizes that education for children and youth is fundamental in promoting a culture that supports the rule of law, crime prevention and criminal justice.

In support of this, the Education for Justice (E4J) initiative – under the Global Programme for the Implementation of the Doha Declaration – has been developed to create and disseminate education materials in UNODC-mandated areas of crime prevention and criminal justice across the primary, secondary and tertiary education levels. Online tools and academic resources will be made available free of charge, while workshops, conferences and symposia will be organized for teachers and academics to learn and exchange ideas and research.

E4J and secondary education

At the secondary education level, E4J is developing practical and interactive educational materials aimed at secondary school students and teachers to promote the understanding of the basic concepts that lie at the core of UNODC-mandated areas. The materials focus on ownership, behaviour, rights and responsibilities, aimed at empowering secondary level students to identify, prevent and resolve moral, ethical or legal dilemmas.

Model United Nations

MUNs offer a popular way to learn about the United Nations and to give tomorrow's leaders an insight into negotiating at the international level. E4J launched a guide to support MUNers who wish to integrate crime prevention and criminal justice issues into their simulations. Participating students will be able to learn about the global rule of law challenges being discussed at the core of the United Nations. Find out more at unodc.org/e4j/mun.

At Model UN, you broaden your horizons. By learning and networking, you can be part of the UN's efforts to establish peace, secure human rights and enable all people to live in dignity.
