Key results

Areas with the most recommendations

Synthesis of evaluation recommendations

Human rights and gender equality	Need for strengthened integration in the design, planning, implementation, reporting and monitoring of UNODC projects/programmes, including in national and regional initiatives.	Selected good practice: UNODC efforts to advocate for awareness with national partners on the needs of most-at-risk populations in Central Asia.
Project/programme implementation	Need for enhanced exit strategies in close consultation with all partners for improved sustainability, in particular financial sustainability.	Selected good practice: UNODC support to Nigeria to strengthen the rule of law-based criminal justice response to terrorism by reaching a substantial proportion of prosecutors, judges and investigators.
RBM and knowledge management	Need for improved RBM frameworks and mechanisms through more systematic data collection, identification of appropriate indicators and increased engagement with stakeholders in the development of theories of change.

Key findings of the results of UNODC strategy, mandated areas of work and SDGs

UNODC has the opportunity to position itself as global leader in research on the connection between human rights and gender equality and anti-money laundering.

UNODC can contribute to increasing Member States' attention to human trafficking, terrorism prevention, anti-money laundering as well as cybercrime in Central Asia.

OIOS highlighted UNODC as a thematic leader in relation to the SDGs, recommending an increased focus on SDGs in UNODC programming.

The objective of this Evaluation Meta-Synthesis is to increase knowledge and awareness of recurring recommendations and lessons learned from UNODC and external evaluations as well as audits. A further objective is to increase the utility of results and contribute to evidence-based decision-making at all levels.
