<sup>1</sup> In July 2022, the secretariat sent out note verbale CU 2022/264(A)/DTA/CEB/CSS inviting States parties to provide information on good practices and challenges concerning international cooperation to further prevent, identify, investigate and prosecute corruption during times of emergencies and crisis response and recovery, in line with paragraphs 22 and 23 of resolution 9/1 entitled “Sharm el-Sheikh declaration on strengthening international cooperation in the prevention of and fight against corruption during times of emergencies and crisis response and recovery”. As at 11 October 2022, the secretariat had received responses from 23 States parties, which were analysed in a note prepared by the secretariat, entitled “Best practices and challenges concerning international cooperation in combating corruption during times of emergencies and crisis response and recovery, and efforts to further explore and enhance knowledge of the links between corruption and other forms of crime” [CAC/COSP/EG.1/2022/CRP.1]. Responses were received from the following States parties: Australia, Bahrain, Belarus, Brazil, Bulgaria, Chad, Chile, Egypt, El Salvador, European Union, France, Georgia, Italy, Mexico, , Myanmar, Panama, Portugal, Republic of Moldova, Romania, Saudi Arabia, Spain, Türkiye and the United States of America.

Questionnaire

Corruption may contribute to impunity for other types of crime by providing the leverage to facilitate and execute them, and to make them invisible, and often exacerbates those crimes through the involvement of powerful elites and individuals. Corrupt behaviour (such as violating duties, accepting or transferring bribes, and facilitating transactions, as well as ignoring or failing to follow-up on information that a crime may be taking place) may serve an enabler of other crimes by allowing for the enrichment of criminals and incentivizing individuals in the public and private sector to facilitate their operation. Other crimes can therefore flourish and in turn provide a basis for a wide range of corrupt behaviour.

This questionnaire is structured into two parts: Part 1 considers steps taken to understand the links between corruption and other forms of crime, while Part 2 focuses on the measures aimed at responding to corruption linked with other forms of crime.

I. Understanding the links between corruption and other forms of crime

1. Has your country undertaken any analyses or assessments to better understand the interlinkages between corruption and other forms of crime, including typologies of crime and how corruption may be used to facilitate and enable organized crime, economic and other crime, and vice versa? YES/NO.

- a. If YES, was such analysis carried out through formal risk assessments or other methods? Please describe.

In 2022, an Anti-Corruption Task - Force for supervising the investigation and prosecution of corruption related cases was formed, under the competence of the Attorney General of the Republic. This Task – Force, consists of attorneys from the Office of the Attorney General, officers from the Unit for Combating Money Laundering (MOKAS) and officers from the Police.

In addition, depending on the case, the Task – Force, in case it is necessary requests the assistance of other authorities such as the Tax Department and the Department of Customs and Excise or other Departments of the public or wider public sector.

The said Task-Force analyses and codifies systematically all the reported cases in order to assess whether the element of corruption exists and if yes, whether there is a linkage between other forms of crime.

2. Please list the main typologies of other crime that have interlinkages with corruption in your country.

Drug trafficking

Money-laundering

Human trafficking

Migrant smuggling

Firearms trafficking

- Crimes that affect the environment
- Trafficking in cultural property
- Cybercrime
- Terrorism
- ✓ Other forms of economic crime, organized crime or other crime with links to corruption (please list)
  - Fraud against EU interests
  - Abuse of power by public officials (appointed or elected)

3. Please provide examples of corruption linked to these other crimes.

Please elaborate if you have or had any cases of the following in your country:

A. Corruption as an enabler of crime

- a. Cases of public officials abusing their office to facilitate criminal activity or to protect certain criminal individuals and entities – or to gain support from them – for example, by providing funding or protection or to gain and control public resources?

We had cases where public officials abused their office to facilitate criminal activity for personal gain.

- b. Cases of corruption being used to facilitate other types of crime, such as trafficking in persons, illicit trade or smuggling of drugs across borders? For example, have any cases involved the following:

- ✓ the issuance of permits, licenses, visas or documents for border crossings
- the purchasing of firearms
- ✓ bribery of border agents
- ✓ falsification of data in public registries
- other

- c. Cases of corruption in public procurement to advance the interests of public officials and their associates? Cases of officials giving preferred access to contracts and tenders to their associates in cases involving other crimes?

We had three major cases where public and/or elected officials were convicted for corruption offences related to corruption in public procurement, advancing the interest of individuals and private companies.

- d. Cases of the protection of victims of crime and corruption being impeded by corruption involving public officials or persons in the private sector?

No case has been reported.

B. Corruption and crime linked to political patronage

- a. Criminal individuals and entities attempting to use corruption to obtain access to political leadership or to gain power and influence, such as through:
- political party financing
  - trading in influence
  - other

No cases have been reported

- b. Cases of crime and corruption being used to attempt to influence or disrupt elections?

No cases have been reported

- c. Cases of criminal involvement, including through the use of corruption, to attempt to influence appointments of public officials to build dependency?

No cases have been reported

C. Corruption to make organized and other crime invisible

- a. Cases of criminals and their associates using proceeds of crime and corruption for personal enrichment and to conceal the origin of the crimes and for money-laundering? In particular, cases of concealment of ownership being used to facilitate corruption and other forms of crime?

No cases have been reported

- b. Cases of corruption being used to impede investigations, prosecutions and adjudications of organized and other crime, such as through bribery or allocation of political and other favors to law enforcement and judicial officers? Are there cases of corruption linked to organized and other crime not being pursued by the authorities ('blind eye')?

No cases have been reported

- c. Cases of individuals and entities using corruption and other crimes to generate the funds needed to buy protection from the police? Cases of corruption in law enforcement authorities used to shield organized crime?

No cases have been reported

- d. Cases of law enforcement being impeded due to a lack of information and data, as well as reporting of crimes related to corruption?

No cases have been reported

4. Has your country collected data or statistics to track and/or analyze trends related to the links between corruption and the types of crime outlined in Question 2 above?

YES/NO

- a. Are these data analysed and used systematically, such as in prevention and investigations or prosecutions? YES/NO.
- b. Please describe any methodologies used for strengthening measurement and terminological clarity, and achieving a deeper understanding of the different contexts (e.g. in times of peace or in emergencies or conflict situations) and sectors (e.g. law enforcement, border crossing, immigration, intelligence and security, procurement), as well as any corruption or organized crime threat assessments that take into account the interlinkages between corruption and other forms of crime.

See answer I 1 a above

5. Has your country collected data or statistics to track and/or analyse trends concerning international cooperation in this regard? YES/NO.

- a. Please elaborate and share any findings with regard to the good practices and challenges in international cooperation with regard to countering corruption as it relates to other forms of crime

The main challenge in international cooperation is the delays in receiving the requested information/evidence from abroad especially from jurisdictions outside the European Union.

6. Has your country taken any steps at national, regional or local levels to better understand and study the linkages between corruption and other crimes, such as criminological research, training or awareness raising? YES/NO.

- a. If YES, please elaborate, providing examples.

Regular training of police investigators and prosecutors as well as training and awareness seminars to government officials about how to detect corruption in the public sector.

7. Which aspects of corruption as it relates to other forms of crime do you consider require further research, and what are the gaps in knowledge or understanding that, if addressed, could facilitate countering these crimes?

As the body (Task – Force) responsible for analyzing and codifying reported corruption cases become operational in 2022, it is too early to draw any conclusions as to the existence of any gaps.

II. Measures aimed at responding to corruption linked with other forms of crime

8. Has your government adopted or utilized any measures at national, regional or local levels aimed at preventing corruption linked with other forms of crime? YES/NO.

- a. If YES, please elaborate. Measures may include:

- safeguards in specific sectors (e.g. law enforcement, border crossing, immigration, intelligence and security, procurement, local officials)
- development of targeted strategies, policies, action plans at national or sectoral level specifically addressing the links between corruption and other crime
- establishment of dedicated institutional frameworks
- specific rules, codes of conduct, or standards of transparency and integrity for public officials who are most exposed to the risk of being involved in crime and corruption
- systems for the disclosure of assets and private interests
- control mechanisms, such as internal approval systems to avoid having one-to-one meetings
- controls on issuances of visas, work permits, firearms licenses
- the use of information and communication technology (ICT) based tools to prevent (or detect) such crimes
- awareness raising and prevention measures for public officials that are vulnerable to corruption and other forms of crime
- other

9. Has your government adopted or utilized any measures aimed at detecting, investigating and prosecuting corruption linked with other forms of crime? YES/NO.

a. If YES, please elaborate. Measures may include:

- legislation criminalizing all forms of corruption related to other types of crime
- legislation providing for the liability of legal persons for their role in corruption linked to other forms of crime
- measures to identify beneficial owners of legal persons
- specialized investigative techniques
- strengthened institutional frameworks, including the establishment of dedicated bodies (such as those mandated to identify links between corruption and other crime), task forces or coordination mechanisms between authorities responsible for corruption and other crime
- capacity-building, including targeted training and peer-learning for relevant authorities
- measures to enable the identification, confiscation, tracing or seizure (and, where relevant, return) of assets that are proceeds of corruption-related crimes
- mechanisms to address the role of professional gatekeepers (i.e. financial, legal, accounting or other relevant professionals) in the transfer of proceeds of corruption and other crime
- measures aimed at encouraging the protection or participation of actors outside the public sector, including:
  - reporting mechanisms, legal protections and incentives aimed at encouraging persons to report corruption and other crimes
  - measures to protect victims, witnesses, and cooperating offenders
  - measures aimed at ensuring the investigation and prosecution of acts of violence committed against journalists and civil society actors whose professional activity relates to corruption linked with other crimes
- other

10. Has your government adopted or utilized any measures aimed at facilitating international cooperation and the rapid exchange of information for cases that have interlinkages between corruption and other forms of crime? YES/NO.

a. If YES, please elaborate. Measures may include:

- ✓ the implementation of mutual legal assistance through digital means
- ✓ measures aimed at enhancing the efficiency of extradition mechanisms
- ✓ the use of electronic communication channels or networks
- ✓ the use of joint or parallel investigations or the bilateral sharing of capacity and expertise on investigating and prosecuting corruption offences linked with other forms of crime
- ✓ cooperation with other countries or multilateral, international or regional bodies to address corruption linked with other forms of crime
- ✓ accession to bilateral, regional or multilateral treaties and agreements.
- other
