

SPECIAL EVENT

REVISITING THE

JAKARTA PRINCIPLES

STRENGTHENING ANTI-CORRUPTION AGENCIES' INDEPENDENCE AND EFFECTIVENESS

The struggle of KPK in the fight against corruption: Are the Jakarta Principles fit for purpose?

Mr. Laode M Syarif, Commissioner, KPK, Indonesia

The relevance of the Jakarta Principles for a new anti-corruption agency

Mr. Renaud Jaune, Deputy Director, AFA, France

Safeguarding the DNA's independence: the continued relevance of the Jakarta Principles

Ms. Laura Kovesi, Chief Prosecutor, DNA, Romania

Revamping Burkina Faso's anti-corruption authority: how the Jakarta Principles shaped the new legislation

Prof. Luc Marius Ibriga, Controller General of State, ASCE-LC, Burkina Faso

Can CSOs make the Jakarta Principles a Living Document to Propel the SDGs?

Mr. Rukshana Nanayakkara, Advocacy Manager, TI

Putting the Jakarta Principles into practice: Where to start from?

Ms. Elodie Beth Seo, Programme Advisor, UNDP

Strengthening implementation of the Jakarta Principles through joint action by multiple stakeholders

Mr. Samuel De Jaegere, Anti-Corruption Advisor, UNODC

Jakarta Statement on Principles of Anti-Corruption Agencies (the Jakarta Principles) was adopted in 2012 as a set of principles to promote and strengthen the independence and effectiveness of ACA.

The Jakarta Principles include important recommendations such as the security of tenure for the ACA head, the immunity from civil and criminal proceedings for acts committed within the performance of their mandate as well as the authority of the ACA to recruit and dismiss their own staff according to internal clear and transparent procedures. The Jakarta Principles also clarify that independence does not mean isolation and that ACAs shall foster good working relations with state agencies, civil society, the private sector and other stakeholders to build a broad-based

Thursday, 9 November 2017

9 a.m. – 10:30 a.m

CONFERENCE ROOM M03

