This registry is a unique database on all contracting authorities and bidders participating in public procurement procedures, in the sense that every registered contracting authority has a profile with basic information and contact information, including the place of seat as well as its organizational units. The Public Procurement Agency has enforced the download of data from the GO PROCURE module for publishing public procurement notices for all contracting authorities. Currently, the Public Procurement Agency promotion is ongoing with a particular focus on services like information systems that the Agency provides to the end users. The Public Procurement Agency has concluded that they obligation for this phase of implementation of the Action Plan for the implementation Strategy for Fight against Corruption (2009-2014) have been fulfilled. With the adoption of the Law on Amendments to the Law on Public Procurement ("Official Gazette of B&H", No. 47/14) on 06.06.2014, responsibilities of all actors carrying out the process has been more clearly defined, mechanisms of prevention of corruption in public procurement has been improved; cost of participation in the proceedings as well as bureaucratic requirements has been reduced. The project “Open Public Procurement in B&H” seeks to identify and overcome existing barriers for the participation of stakeholders in public procurement. For that reason a survey was conducted in April and May 2014, with the aim of mapping the key problems and experiences of entrepreneurs in B&H related to the different stages and aspects of the public procurement process, including the perception and experience of corruption, availability of calls for tenders, pricing of tender documentation and supporting documentation attached with the offer, administrative fees, the criteria for the qualification and selection of bidders, the appeal procedure and monitoring contract implementation.
