1. Pursuant to article 4, paragraph 1,³ and article 32, paragraph 3, of the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime, together with articles 2 and 37 of the Convention and common article 1 of each Protocol thereto and recalling its resolution 8/2, the Conference of the Parties to the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime establishes the following mechanism to review implementation of the Convention and the Protocols thereto (hereinafter referred to as “the Mechanism”).

³ Which provides that States parties shall carry out their obligations under the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime in a manner consistent with the principles of sovereign equality and territorial integrity of States and that of non-intervention in the domestic affairs of other States.

(i) Be of a technical nature and promote constructive collaboration, inter alia, on issues concerning international cooperation, prevention, protection of witnesses and assistance and protection for victims;

(p) Endeavour to adopt a progressive and comprehensive approach, given that the review of implementation of the Convention is an ongoing and gradual process.

III. Efficiency of the Mechanism

4. The Mechanism shall be cost-effective, concise and user-friendly; and make optimal and efficient use of existing information, tools, resources and technology so that it would not impose undue burdens upon States parties, their central authorities and experts involved in the review process.

IV. Relationship of the Mechanism with the Conference of the Parties

5. The review of implementation of the Convention and the Protocols thereto and the Mechanism shall be under the authority of the Conference, in accordance with article 32 of the Convention.

6. The Conference may conduct an evaluation of the organization, functioning, funding, and performance of the review process, so as to amend and improve the existing Mechanism at any time.

V. Review process

A. Goals

7. Consistent with the Convention, in particular article 32, the review process, inter alia, shall assist the Conference to:

(a) Promote the purposes of the Convention and the Protocols thereto, as set out in article 1 of the Convention and article 2 of each of the Protocols;

(b) Improve the capacity of States parties to prevent and combat transnational organized crime and to promote and review the implementation of the Convention and the Protocols thereto;

(c) Help States parties to identify and substantiate specific needs for technical assistance and to promote and facilitate the provision of technical assistance upon their request;

(d) Gather information on national legislation, successes, good practices and challenges of States parties in implementing and using the Convention and the Protocols thereto, and to promote and facilitate the exchange of this information;

(e) Promote international cooperation as stipulated in the Convention and the Protocols thereto;

(f) Acquire the necessary knowledge of the measures taken by States parties in implementing the Convention and the difficulties encountered by them in doing so through information provided by them.

B. Review process

8. The Mechanism shall be applicable to all States parties to the Convention and to each of the Protocols they are parties to. It shall progressively address all the articles of the Convention and the Protocols thereto. It shall be structured on thematic clusters of articles based on their subject matter, as indicated in table 1 contained the appendix. The review shall be a gradual process consisting of one preparatory phase (years 1 and 2) and four subsequent review phases (years 3–12).

9. For each group of States parties as set forth in paragraph 16, the advancement to the next review phase is conditional upon the completion of 70 per cent of the reviews foreseen at the beginning of the previous phase, unless the Conference decides otherwise.

10. For each group of States parties as set forth in paragraph 16, the implementation of the Convention and the Protocols thereto must be reviewed under the same thematic cluster at the same time.

11. The review process shall be composed of a general review that will be undertaken in the Plenary of the Conference of the Parties, and of country reviews that will be conducted through desk reviews. The Conference and its working groups shall add the matter to their agendas as an item consistent with their areas of expertise and without prejudice to their respective existing mandates. Taking into consideration the progressive nature of the review set forth in paragraph 8, the content of the agendas and scheduling of the meetings of the working groups will be decided by the Conference or the extended Bureau in a timely manner. In order to ensure that the working groups may contribute to the review mechanism while also carrying out their respective existing mandates, each working group should dedicate no more than one agenda item per session to matters pertaining to the functioning of the review process.

12. The purpose of the general review will be to facilitate the exchange of experiences, lessons learned, good practices and challenges encountered in implementing provisions of the Convention and Protocols with a view to improving the implementation of the Convention and Protocols.

13. The purpose of the desk reviews shall be to identify gaps in implementation and recommend measures to be taken, including the identification of technical assistance needs, where necessary. Discussions pertaining to desk reviews will be undertaken in the relevant working groups.

14. The preparatory phase (years 1 and 2) shall be devoted to the definition of organizational matters, including the preparation of the guidelines for conducting the country review and the blueprint for the desk review reports, and the finalization, in accordance with paragraph 18 of the present procedures and rules, of the self-assessment questionnaire for each of the instruments. This preparatory phase shall also be used to ensure the optimal and efficient use of existing information, tools, resources and technology as part of the review process. The four review phases shall be held from year 3 to year 12. For each group of States parties as set forth in paragraph 16, they shall last two years each. The four review phases shall be conducted and concluded in line with the multi-year workplan contained in table 2 contained in the appendix.

15. The Conference may decide to make amendments to the multi-year workplan if doing so is deemed appropriate in the light of the efficient functioning of the Mechanism. The relevant working groups may recommend to the Conference adjustments to the multi-year workplan.

16. The selection of States parties participating in the desk reviews shall be carried out by the drawing of lots at the beginning of the review process, staggered in three consecutive years. Each year one third of the States parties to the Convention will be selected to be reviewed for all the instruments they are parties to, in accordance with paragraphs 28 and 29 of the present procedures and rules. If possible, the number of States parties from each regional group to be selected for review in a given year shall be proportionate to the size of that regional group.

17. Each State party shall appoint a focal point to coordinate its participation in the review, and make this information available on the knowledge management portal known as Sharing Electronic Resources and Laws on Crime (SHERLOC). In case a State party has not appointed a focal point by the time of the drawing of the lots referred to in paragraph 28, all communications will be submitted to the permanent representative to the United Nations Office in Vienna, permanent representative to the United Nations Office in Geneva, or the permanent representative to the United Nations in New York, in that order, who shall act as temporary focal point.

C. Information-gathering

18. In order to review each thematic cluster of articles of the Convention and Protocols thereto, the working groups shall finalize, during the preparatory phase and with the assistance of the Secretariat, short, precise and focused self-assessment questionnaires for the review of implementation of each instrument. Provisions of the Convention that apply to the Protocols, mutatis mutandis, will be reviewed under the Convention only. In responding to the questionnaires, States parties are invited to provide complete, up-to-date, accurate and timely information in one of the working languages of the Mechanism, in accordance with Section VII. The responses to the questionnaires and the lists of observations indicated in paragraph 37, when available, shall be the basis for a general report of trends, patterns and best practices to be prepared — or updated as appropriate — by the Secretariat for consideration by the Conference at its regular sessions. The responses to the questionnaires shall be the basis for the desk review, without prejudice to information or clarification requested by the reviewing States parties and provided by the State party under review.

19. Each State party under review shall provide the responses to the self-assessment questionnaire to the reviewing States parties through the secure module of SHERLOC established in line with paragraph 20. Upon request, the Secretariat shall facilitate the States parties uploading information by assisting them with e-training, instructions, advice, credentials.

20. The self-assessment questionnaire shall be available on SHERLOC. A new secure module shall be developed as a further component of SHERLOC to host the questionnaires and responses thereto, which shall ensure the full confidentiality of all data submitted by States parties. The module shall include a secure written communications platform for the ensuing dialogue between the State party under review and the reviewing States parties, and archive capabilities.

21. When responding to the self-assessment questionnaires, States parties may also refer to information provided in the context of other relevant review mechanisms of instruments to which they are parties. States parties shall bear in mind that any update since previous submissions of information under other review mechanisms are appropriately reflected in the responses. In particular, when reviewing the same legislation for obligations which are identical or similar to those under the United Nations Convention against Corruption, a State party under review may submit the same responses and additional documentation that it has submitted under the review mechanism of the United Nations Convention against Corruption.

22. The State party under review is strongly encouraged to prepare its responses to the self-assessment questionnaire through broad consultations at the national level with all relevant stakeholders, including, where appropriate, the private sector, individuals and groups outside the public sector, non-governmental organizations and academia, taking into consideration the specificities of the Convention and the Protocols thereto.

23. When reviewing provisions related to the prevention and the assistance and protection of victims of crime, as covered by article 6, paragraph 3, and article 9, paragraph 3 of the Protocol to Prevent, Suppress and Punish Trafficking in Persons, Especially Women and Children and article 14, paragraph 2 of the Protocol against the Smuggling of Migrants by Land, Sea and Air, States under review are encouraged to facilitate contacts, as appropriate, between reviewing States and non-governmental organizations, other relevant organizations and other elements of civil society which cooperate in the implementation of such provisions.

24. The Secretariat shall be responsible for adjusting and maintaining SHERLOC to serve as the user-friendly database for collecting and disseminating information on the review mechanism.

D. Conduct of the desk review

25. The desk review shall consist of a single review for each State party of its implementation of the Convention and of each Protocol it is party to. It shall be conducted in phases, with each phase beginning with the completion by the State party under review of the relevant sections of the self-assessment questionnaire on its implementation of each instrument to which it is a party.

26. The responses to the self-assessment questionnaire and any additional information provided by the State party under Review, including reference to relevant legislation, shall be reviewed by two other States that are parties to the relevant instruments, with the active involvement of the State party under review.

27. Each State party shall, for the purposes of the review, designate one or more governmental experts with expertise relevant to the instruments it is party to and make this information available on SHERLOC.

28. At the beginning of the review process, a joint intersessional meeting of the working groups without interpretation shall draw lots to select as reviewing States one State from the regional group of the State party under review and one State from another regional group, with the understanding that States shall not undertake mutual reviews and that reviewing States shall be parties to the same instruments as the State under review. If possible, one of the reviewing States parties shall have a legal system similar to that of the State under review. The two reviewing States shall serve as such for the duration of the review process for each State party under review through four subsequent review phases. In case a reviewing State is not party to all the instruments to which the State under review is party, an additional reviewing State shall be selected only for those instruments. The State party under review and the reviewing States may request a maximum of two times each that the drawing of lots be repeated. In exceptional circumstances, the drawing of lots may be repeated more than twice. If needed, the drawing of the lots may be repeated at a subsequent intersessional meeting.

29. By the end of the review process, each State party must have undergone its own review and performed a minimum of one review and a maximum of three reviews. On a voluntary basis, States parties may participate as reviewing State party in more than three reviews.

30. The State party under review shall undertake consultations with the reviewing States parties, through their focal points, with the assistance of the Secretariat, on the establishment of time frames and the requirements of the desk review, in accordance with the guidelines for conducting the country reviews, including the selection of the working language, in accordance with section VII of the present procedures and rules.

31. Governmental experts from the reviewing States parties with expertise to the relevant instrument may divide tasks and issues among themselves, taking into account their respective fields of competence.

32. The Secretariat shall provide administrative support to facilitate the establishment of open lines of communication among the governmental experts involved in the desk review, in order to ensure that they can make best use of the secure written communication platform developed under SHERLOC and referred to in paragraph 20. The Secretariat shall be kept abreast of all communications made through SHERLOC. The Secretariat shall also be in charge of preparing the guidelines for the conduct of the country reviews, which may be based, inter alia, on the UNODC legislative, technical and assessment guides.

33. Within a reasonable time frame, to be mutually agreed by the parties involved, not exceeding six months, the State party under review shall provide the responses to the self-assessment questionnaires to the reviewing States parties through the secure module of SHERLOC.

34. Within a reasonable time frame, not exceeding six months, of the receipt of the responses to the self-assessment questionnaires from the State party under review, the reviewing States parties shall submit to the State party under review written feedback on the measures taken in the implementation of the Convention and the relevant Protocols, as well as on successes and challenges of such implementation. The feedback may also contain, where necessary, requests for clarification or additional information, or supplementary questions to which the State party under review is encouraged to respond. A constructive dialogue between the State party under review and the reviewing States parties shall be guided by the overarching principles and shall be archived in the designated confidential module in SHERLOC.

35. While SHERLOC represents the primary platform of communication, as described in sections V.C and V.D of the present procedures and rules, States parties participating in a review may use other available technological tools, such as virtual networks, conference calls and videoconferences as part of their constructive dialogue. State parties are encouraged to take advantage of regularly scheduled meetings of the Conference of the Parties and its working groups to further the direct dialogue. Any relevant information resulting from such contacts should be uploaded on the sections of SHERLOC dedicated to the ensuing dialogue between the State party under review and the reviewing States parties, in order to keep record of the process.

36. The reviewing States parties and the Secretariat shall maintain the confidentiality of all information obtained in the course of, or used in, the desk review. On a voluntary basis, parties under review may request the Secretariat to use information provided during their reviews to populate the public elements of SHERLOC.

E. Outcome of the desk review

37. At the final stage of each review phase for each State party, the reviewing States, in close cooperation and coordination with the State party under review, and with the assistance of the Secretariat, shall prepare a list of observations indicating any gaps and challenges in the implementation of the provisions under review, best practices and, when necessary, technical assistance needs identified to improve implementation of the Convention and its Protocols. Such a list shall be short, precise and concise, and based on the responses to the self-assessment questionnaire and ensuing dialogue. This document shall be made available to the working groups as a conference room paper.

38. At the final stage of the overall review process, the reviewing States, with the substantive assistance of the Secretariat and in close cooperation and coordination with the State party under review, shall prepare a final desk review report to summarize the process. Upon request by the State party under review or the reviewing States the draft of the final desk review report shall be submitted by the Secretariat to the reviewing States for their consideration. The final document shall be based on the blueprint format and not exceed 4,000 words and should avoid duplications with the lists of observations and technical assistance needs referred to in paragraph 37. It may include best practices as well as references to measures that the State under review has taken in order to address the observations and recommendations made by the reviewing States during the review process.

39. The list of observations and technical assistance needs and the final desk review report shall be finalized upon agreement between the reviewing States parties and the State party under review.

40. The final desk review report shall be translated into the six official languages of the United Nations and be made available to the Conference and its working groups.

41. In order to improve and strengthen cooperation and learning among States parties, each State party shall make available to other States parties, through the secure module of SHERLOC, the responses to its self-assessment questionnaire, and, upon request of other States parties, may also make available the ensuing dialogue mentioned in paragraph 20 and additional documentation pertaining to its review. States parties and the Secretariat shall maintain the confidentiality of all information obtained in the process.

42. A State party may decide to make public the responses to its self-assessment questionnaire, ensuing dialogue and additional documentation, or part thereof, including through SHERLOC.

F. Follow-up procedures

43. The working groups of the Conference shall draw upon from the lists of observations mentioned in paragraph 37 as well as the final desk review reports in preparing their sessions, and take them into account when proposing generally applicable recommendations to the Conference.

44. The working group of Government Experts on Technical Assistance shall consider the technical assistance needs identified during the review process and make recommendations to the Conference of the Parties on how to assist States parties in their efforts to implement the Convention and the Protocols. As appropriate, States parties shall also provide information to the working group on whether technical assistance needs identified in relation to their review reports have been addressed.

45. As a follow-up to its review, a State party may request technical assistance based on the specific needs identified in the review process with a view to improve the capacity of the State party to effectively implement the Convention and the Protocols thereto. The Secretariat shall endeavour to seek voluntary contributions for these purposes, in accordance with the rules and procedures of the United Nations.

46. As a follow-up to its review, each State party is urged to share with the Conference and relevant working groups information on progress achieved in connection with the observations contained in the desk review reports and on any measures planned or undertaken.

47. The Secretariat of the Conference shall be the Secretariat of the Mechanism. The tasks performed by the Secretariat are those indicated in the present procedures and rules.

In exceptional cases, where there is no agreement on the selection of the working language, the desk review may be conducted in two working languages.

50. Any additional translations and interpretations required for the conduct of the desk review shall be provided by extrabudgetary resources.

VIII. Participation of signatories to the Convention or any of the Protocols in the Mechanism

51. A State signatory to the Convention or any of the Protocols may participate in the Mechanism as a State under review on a voluntary basis. The costs associated with such participation shall be paid from available voluntary contributions.

52. In order to promote constructive dialogue and engagement with all relevant stakeholders and in accordance with article 32, paragraph 3 (c) of the Convention, informal meetings with interested relevant stakeholders, including non-signatories, entities, intergovernmental organizations and non-governmental organizations as referred to in articles 14, 15, 16, 17 of the rules of procedure for the Conference, shall be held on the review process, including on the technical assistance needs identified:

(a) Such meetings shall be convened on the margins of the meetings of the working groups and conducted by the chair of the working group, assisted by the Secretariat, at the request of the President of the Conference;

(b) No specific country situation shall be mentioned during the meetings, except that a country under review may voluntarily raise matters related to its own review;

(c) The Secretariat shall invite to the meetings all relevant stakeholders, including non-signatories, entities, intergovernmental organizations and non-governmental organizations, which have been entitled to participate as observers in the session of the Conference previous to the meeting, in conformity with articles 14, 15, 16, 17 of the rules of procedure for the Conference;
