Introduction

A. Objectives of the Eighth United Nations Survey of Crime Trends and Operations of Criminal Justice Systems

1. The Economic and Social Council, in its resolution 1984/48 of 25 May 1984, requested the Secretary-General to maintain and develop the United Nations crime-related database by continuing to conduct surveys of crime trends and operations of criminal justice systems.
2. The main goal of the Eighth United Nations Survey of Crime Trends and Operations of Criminal Justice Systems, covering the period 2001 - 2002, is to collect data on the incidence of reported crime and the operations of criminal justice systems with a view to improving the analysis and dissemination of that information throughout the world. The results of the Eighth Survey will provide an overview of crime trends and relationships between various parts of the criminal justice system and promote informed decision-making in administration, at the national and international levels.
3. The data gathered by the eighth survey, as is the case in each of the previous sweeps of the survey, is critical in providing insights into overall global crime and crime justice trends. The data builds on that already collected, providing a unique insight into global crime trends since the mid-1970s. In this regard, the data gathered will inform the conclusions of the forthcoming Global Report on Crime and Justice due to be published in 2004. This report, and the data it contains, will be of critical importance in assisting international policy makers to determine the most appropriate issues and areas for technical assistance.
4. The questionnaire for the Eighth Survey consists of a series of questions designed to elicit responses in the form of data, primarily statistical data, on the main components of criminal justice systems for the period 2001 - 2002. The questionnaire for the Eighth Survey closely resembles the questionnaire for the Sixth and Seventh United Nations Surveys of Crime Trends and Operations of Criminal Justice Systems, which covered the period 1995-2000. The instructions in the paragraphs below should be carefully studied before the questionnaire is completed. Partial replies should be reviewed by the central responding office to ensure that the jurisdictions to which the data refer (for example, national or federal jurisdictions) are clearly defined and that the data are statistically valid. It is important to review the replies in all parts of the questionnaire for consistency.

B. Instructions for completing the questionnaire

1. The questionnaire is compiled in such a way that it can be divided up between different agencies and reassembled in the central responding office before it is returned.
2. Electronic versions of the questionnaire can be found at http://www.unodc.org/unodc/en/crime_cicp_survey_eighth.html.
3. Respondents completing the tables are requested to keep the following in mind:
 - (a) If figures provided in one table differ significantly from one year to the next, the discrepancy should be explained in notes to the table;
 - (b) If it is not possible to provide data as classified or defined in a table, an attempt should be made to adjust the data as far as possible and to describe the steps involved in notes to the table;
 - (c) If data are not yet available, provisional data or estimates may be inserted and noted accordingly;
 - (d) If a table can be completed only in part, it should be explained in a note in the appropriate section that the rest of the data are "not available";
 - (e) If no data at all are available, the words "not yet available", "not tabulated" or "not collected" as the case may be, should be written in the appropriate space;
 - (f) In most cases, the calendar year should be used as the reporting period. Where some other annual period is used, such as a fiscal year not corresponding to the calendar year, that fact should be noted;
 - (g) Statistics on such matters as criminal justice personnel, court action and the prison population should include data from all levels of government, that is, from the national, state and local authorities.
4. Requests for any clarification or further information in respect of this questionnaire should be addressed to the Director, Division of Policy Analysis and Public Affairs, United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, P.O. Box 500, A-1400 Vienna, Austria. Such requests can also be sent by fax (43-1-26060-5898) or by e-mail (wolfgang.rhomberg@unodc.org).

Definition of terms

1. The definitions below are applicable to many legal codes.
2. “Intentional homicide” may be understood to mean death deliberately inflicted on a person by another person, including infanticide.
3. “Non-intentional homicide” may be understood to mean death not deliberately inflicted on a person by another person. That includes the crime of manslaughter but excludes traffic accidents that result in the death of persons.
4. “Assault” may be understood to mean physical attack against the body of another person, including battery but excluding indecent assault. Some criminal or penal codes distinguish between aggravated assault and simple assault, depending on the degree of resulting injury. If such a distinction is made in your country, please provide the relevant data for aggravated assault under the category “Major assault”. Under the category “Total assault” should be included data on both aggravated assault (i.e. major assault) and simple assault. Please provide the main criterion for distinguishing between aggravated assault and simple assault if such a distinction is made in your country.
5. “Rape” may be understood to mean sexual intercourse without valid consent. Please indicate whether statutory rape is included in the data provided. If, in your country, a distinction is made between sexual assault and actual penetration, please provide relevant information.
6. “Robbery” may be understood to mean the theft of property from a person, overcoming resistance by force or threat of force.
7. “Theft” may be understood to mean the removal of property without the property owner=s consent. “Theft” excludes burglary and housebreaking as well as theft of a motor vehicle. Some criminal and penal codes distinguish between grand and petty theft, depending on the value of the goods and property taken from their rightful owner. If such a distinction is made in your country, please provide the relevant data for grand theft under the category “Major theft”. The category “Total theft” should include data on both grand theft (i.e. major theft) and petty theft. Please provide the main criterion for distinguishing between grand theft and petty theft if such a distinction is made in your country.
8. “Automobile theft” may be understood to mean the removal of a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner of the vehicle.
9. “Burglary” may be understood to mean unlawful entry into someone else=s premises with the intention to commit a crime.
10. “Fraud” may be understood to mean the acquisition of another person=s property by deception. Please indicate whether the fraudulent obtaining of financial property is included in the data provided.
11. “Embezzlement” may be understood to mean the wrongful appropriation of another person=s property that is already in the possession of the person doing the appropriating.
12. “Drug-related crimes” may be understood to mean intentional acts that involve the cultivation, production, manufacture, extraction, preparation, offering for sale, distribution, purchase, sale, delivery on any terms whatsoever, brokerage, dispatch, dispatch in transit, transport, importation, exportation and possession of internationally controlled drugs. Where applicable, reference may be made to the provisions of the Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs of 1954¹ and other regulations adopted in pursuance of the provisions of the Convention on Psychotropic Substances of 1971² and/or the United Nations Convention against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances of 1988.³
13. “Bribery and/or corruption” may be understood to mean requesting and/or accepting material or personal benefits, or the promise thereof, in connection with the performance of a public function for an action that may or may not be a violation of law and/or promising as well as giving material or personal benefits to a public officer in exchange for a requested favor.

14. “Kidnapping” may be understood to mean unlawfully detaining a person or persons against their will (or national equivalent e.g. using force, threat, fraud or enticement) for the purpose of demanding for their liberation an illicit gain or any other economic gain or other material benefit, or in order to oblige someone to do or not to do something.
15. “Recorded crimes” may be understood to mean the number of penal code offences or their equivalent (i.e. various special law offences), but excluding minor road traffic offences and other petty offences, brought to the attention of the police or other law enforcement agencies and recorded by one of those agencies.
16. “Police personnel or law enforcement personnel” may be understood to mean personnel in public agencies whose principal functions are the prevention, detection and investigation of crime and the apprehension of alleged offenders. If the police are part of the national security force in your country, please try to focus your replies as much as possible on the civil police rather than on the national guard or local militia. If there are many local forces, please provide data on those forces if possible. If police or law enforcement personnel fulfill prosecutorial functions, that fact should be noted in the space below table 1. Data concerning support staff (secretaries, clerks etc.) should be excluded from your replies.
17. If the categories given in paragraphs 2-14 above are not fully compatible with the legal code in your country, please try to adjust the data as far as possible. Alternatively, you may indicate in the space below the table concerned or on the facing page what kinds of crime are included in your statistics that might be comparable to the categories suggested or how the comparable types of crime are defined in your country.

13. “Bribery and/or corruption” may be understood to mean requesting and/or accepting material or personal benefits, or the promise thereof, in connection with the performance of a public function for an action that may or may not be a violation of law and/or promising as well as giving material or personal benefits to a public officer in exchange for a requested favor.
14. “Kidnapping” may be understood to mean unlawfully detaining a person or persons against their will (or national equivalent e.g. using force, threat, fraud or enticement) for the purpose of demanding for their liberation an illicit gain or any other economic gain or other material benefit, or in order to oblige someone to do or not to do something.
15. “Persons convicted” may be understood to mean persons found guilty by any legal body duly authorized to pronounce them convicted under national law, whether the conviction was later upheld or not. If persons are convicted by any agency other than the courts, please state which agency and provide statistical details in the space provided after tables 10 and 11. In those tables the total number of persons convicted includes the number convicted of serious special law offences but excludes the number convicted of minor road traffic offences and other petty offences.
16. “Professional judges or magistrates” may be understood to mean both full-time and part-time officials authorized to hear civil, criminal and other cases, including in appeal courts, and make dispositions in a court of law. Please include in that category associate judges and magistrates, who may be authorized as above.
17. “Lay judges or magistrates” may be understood to mean persons who perform the same functions as professional judges or magistrates but who do not regard themselves, and are not normally regarded by others, as career members of the judiciary. Data concerning support staff (secretaries, clerks etc.) should be excluded.
18. If the categories given in paragraphs 2-14 above are not fully compatible with the legal code in your country, please try to adjust the data as far as possible. Alternatively, you may indicate below the table concerned or on the facing page what kinds of crime are included in your statistics that might be comparable to the categories suggested or how the comparable types of crime are defined in your country.

Definition of terms

1. The definitions below are applicable to many legal codes.
2. “Intentional homicide” may be understood to mean death deliberately inflicted on a person by another person, including infanticide.
3. “Non-intentional homicide” may be understood to mean death not deliberately inflicted on a person by another person. That includes the crime of manslaughter but excludes traffic accidents that result in the death of persons.
4. “Assault” may be understood to mean physical attack against the body of another person, including battery but excluding indecent assault. Some criminal or penal codes distinguish between aggravated assault and simple assault, depending on the degree of resulting injury. If such a distinction is made in your country, please provide the relevant data for aggravated assault under the category “Major assault”. Under the category “Total assault” should be included data on both aggravated assault (i.e. major assault) and simple assault. Please provide the main criterion for distinguishing between aggravated assault and simple assault if such a distinction is made in your country.
5. “Rape” may be understood to mean sexual intercourse without valid consent. Please indicate whether statutory rape is included in the data provided. If, in your country, a distinction is made between sexual assault and actual penetration, please provide relevant information.
6. “Robbery” may be understood to mean the theft of property from a person, overcoming resistance by force or threat of force.
7. “Theft” may be understood to mean the removal of property without the property owner=s consent. “Theft” excludes burglary and housebreaking as well as theft of a motor vehicle. Some criminal and penal codes distinguish between grand and petty theft, depending on the value of the goods and property taken from their rightful owner. If such a distinction is made in your country, please provide the relevant data for grand theft under the category “Major theft”. The category “Total theft” should include data on both grand theft (i.e. major theft) and petty theft. Please provide the main criterion for distinguishing between grand theft and petty theft if such a distinction is made in your country.
8. “Automobile theft” may be understood to mean the removal of a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner of the vehicle.
9. “Burglary” may be understood to mean unlawful entry into someone else=s premises with the intention to commit a crime.
10. “Fraud” may be understood to mean the acquisition of another person=s property by deception. Please indicate whether the fraudulent obtaining of financial property is included in the data provided.
11. “Embezzlement” may be understood to mean the wrongful appropriation of another person=s property that is already in the possession of the person doing the appropriating.
12. “Drug-related crimes” may be understood to mean intentional acts that involve the cultivation, production, manufacture, extraction, preparation, offering for sale, distribution, purchase, sale, delivery on any terms whatsoever, brokerage, dispatch, dispatch in transit, transport, importation, exportation and possession of internationally controlled drugs. Where applicable, reference may be made to the provisions of the Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs of 1961¹ and other regulations adopted in pursuance of the provisions of the Convention on Psychotropic Substances of 1971² and/or the United Nations Convention against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances of 1988.³

13. “Bribery and/or corruption” may be understood to mean requesting and/or accepting material or personal benefits, or the promise thereof, in connection with the performance of a public function for an action that may or may not be a violation of law and/or promising as well as giving material or personal benefits to a public officer in exchange for a requested favor.
14. “Kidnapping” may be understood to mean unlawfully detaining a person or persons against their will (or national equivalent e.g. using force, threat, fraud or enticement) for the purpose of demanding for their liberation an illicit gain or any other economic gain or other material benefit, or in order to oblige someone to do or not to do something.
15. “Prisons, penal institutions or correctional institutions” may be understood to mean all public and privately financed institutions where persons are deprived of their liberty. The institutions may include, but are not limited to, penal, correctional, or psychiatric facilities under prison administration.
16. “Prison staff” may be understood to mean all individuals employed in penal or correctional institutions, including management, treatment, custodial and other (maintenance, food service etc.) personnel.
17. If the categories given in paragraphs 15 and 16 above are not fully compatible with the legal code in your country, please try to adjust the data as far as possible. Alternatively, you may indicate below the table concerned or on the facing page what kinds of crime are included in your statistics that might be comparable to the categories suggested or how the comparable types of crime are defined in your country.
