

Santiago M. Perez-Vincent is a researcher and research coordinator for the Citizen Security and Justice Cluster at the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB). His research agenda covers issues of economic development, political economics, and the economics of crime. Santiago holds a Ph.D. in Economics from Bocconi University (Italy).